Berlin Scoffs

German Sources Report 'Same Old Swindle' Is Astir

London, April 18 (AP)—Exchange Telegraph, British news agency, today quoted a Norwegian survivor of the torpedoed British steamer Stancliffe as saying the German liner Bremen had sunk off Norway with 15,000 troops.

The seaman, named Rydningen, was saved after the Stancliffe was torpedoed off the north Scottish coast last Friday.

German authorities in Berlin last week denied earlier reports the Bremen had been sunk early in the occupation of Denmark and Norway. Today authorized German sources said the latest report sounds like "the same old swindle."

Rydningen was one of 16 survivors landed today at a northern port by a rescue vessel after they spent three days in an open boat. Bodies of six companions were in the boat.

Balkans Nervous as Five Navies Maneuver

Fearful that southeastern Europe might become the next theatre of war, the Balkan countries heard that the warships of five powers—Italy, Britain, France, Turkey and Russia—were maneuvering within easy striking distance of the all-important Dardanelles, which as shown, connect the Mediterranean and Black seas. Rumanians felt relief at reports of a tentative Rumanian-Russian agreement to keep troops of each nation six miles behind the common, disputed, border. Meanwhile Rome prepared to call more troops to the colors.

Dairymen Vote 98.32 Per Cent For Milk Change

Mail Referendum Brings Ballot of 28,144 to 480 for Amendment; Other Results Due

Albany, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—New York dairymen have voted 98.32 per cent for an amendment of the state's milk marketing order which reduces from $2.82 to $2.45 per hundred pounds (47 quarts) the minimum price to producers for fluid milk delivered in New York city in May, June and July.

Laurance L. Clough, market administrator and referendum agent for the state and federal governments, announced today a vote of 28,144 to 480 for the amendment in a mail referendum which ended last Monday midnight.

The $2.82 minimum was established last year as the result of the severe drought's effect on milk production. Without the proposed amendment, the wholesale butter market again would become the basis for the price minimum which, an agriculture department spokesman said, probably would drop to "about $2.20."

The amendment, which also fixes a $2.65 per hundredweight minimum for November and December, is designed to prevent this "possible sharp decline," Clough said.

It also changes the determination of producer prices of milk

Hungary Woos Russia To Stave Off Germany

'Most Anti-Soviet' Area in Europe Will Ask Help for Support of Neutrality

Budapest, April 18 (AP)—Hungary is contemplating talks with Soviet Russia to ward off a possible German invasion of southeastern Europe, authoritative persons said today.

Just as Rumania and Yugoslavia appeared to be turning toward Moscow for support of their neutrality, Hungary, long regarded as the most anti-Soviet nation in Europe, was believed planning to follow a similar course.

The hope for Russian support was based principally on the belief that the Russians, despite their non-aggression and trade alliance with the Reich, are against any German advance into the Balkans and may be able to bring enough pressure on Germany to hold her off.

Delegation to Moscow

The Yugoslav government has announced that a delegation would leave for Moscow to sign a treaty for a resumption of trade relations severed since the Russian revolution.

Rumania, which in recent days has been beset by an increased fear of a Russian attack on Bessarabia—Rumanian territory which has had a period under Russian rule—was reported to have reached a tentative agreement

Lodge Enters Narvik and Says British Have Occupied Port; Germans Repeat Bland Denial

(J. Norman Lodge, veteran Associated Press reporter, slipped across the closely guarded Swedish border into northern Norway to obtain the following first hand account of the situation at Narvik.)

By J. NORMAN LODGE

Vannas Sweden, April 18 (AP)—British marines and soldiers are consolidating their foothold in northern Norway as Germans, driving Norwegian defense troops before them, retreat to the south.

I have just returned after a journey afoot through Norwegian frontier areas which took me to the outskirts of Narvik before I was arrested by British troops.

A show of my passport gave me my freedom—but that was short-lived. As I started out in an effort to tour the region to determine the situation, I was arrested again and turned over to the Norwegian military authorities back of Narvik.

Because I lacked a visa on my passport, I was ordered back to the border.

I was told that the British occupied Narvik, the ore-shipping port, and points north, south and east, after debarking at Harstad, 30 miles up the coast.

(DNB, official German news agency, said in a statement that the Germans are in Narvik "today, April 18, and are in possession not only of the harbor, but of the city." A further statement said that additional information received from Narvik early this afternoon reported the situation there unchanged.)

The Germans are retreating southward, harassed by scattered Norwegian units, and the British are extending their hold in northern Norway.

I found British marines in possession of Elvergard, 10 miles south of Narvik. They also have driven east from Narvik some 15 or 16 miles to Bjorksen, only a short distance from the Swedish frontier.

In between these points the

Hull Proclaims 'Hands-Off' Rule For Netherlands East Indies

U. S. Secretary of State Mentions No Nation, but His Prefix Gives Views of Arita

Washington, April 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt expressed a hope today that the status quo in the whole Pacific area could be maintained in the interests of peace.

He stated his view to a press conference when asked for comment on Secretary Hull's statement yesterday that disturbance of the status quo would prejudice the cause of "stability, peace and security not only in the region of the Netherlands Indies but in the entire Pacific area."

Hull's statement, in effect, was a notice to other nations to keep hands off the Dutch East Indies.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters that Hull's declaration had covered the situation thoroughly.

Tokyo's Foreign Minister Declares Statement Is in Line With His Nation's Wishes

Tokyo, April 18 (AP)—Secretary Hull's statement opposing any change in the status of the Netherlands East Indies was greeted by Japan today as coinciding with Japan's own wishes.

A report on the American statement was made to the privy council by Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita who focused world attention on the rich Netherlands possessions last Monday by a declaration that Japan would be concerned deeply over any change in the East Indies' status.

Both Japan and the United States based their declarations on apprehension over what might happen to the island empire if European warfare engulfs the Netherlands.

Italy Is Warned

Great Britain Declares Duce Must Watch His Step

Stockholm, April 18 (AP)—Reports reaching here from the Norwegian frontier said today it was only a question of hours before a Norwegian attack started against German positions in the Trondheim district.

Swedish newspaper correspondents said the Norwegians were concentrated at Steinkjar, on the inner part of Trondheim Fjord, and at a railroad junction connecting with Namsos, about 100 miles further north on the coast.

These reports said it was believed the British had landed at Namsos, which they called the Britons' best base for sending reinforcements to the Norwegians in the Trondheim area.

Five German planes were reported destroyed in British air raids on German west coast positions yesterday.

As the German invaders of Norway today rolled closer to this frontier the Swedes clamped new restrictions on foreigners in her territory to maintain neutrality.

Hull's Statement

Washington, April 18 (AP)—The United States proclaimed to the world today a "hands-off" doctrine for the Netherlands East Indies, the rich and strategically vital colonial empire in the South Pacific.

Taking cognizance of Japan's expressed concern for the future of the islands should the European war engulf the Netherlands, Secretary of State Hull said in a statement last night:

"Intervention in the domestic affairs of the Netherlands Indies or any alteration of their status quo by other than peaceful processes would be prejudicial to the cause of stability, peace and security not only in the region of the Netherlands Indies but in the entire Pacific area."

As he issued his pronouncement, British, French and American fleet authorities said in Shanghai that a Japanese attempt to seize the Dutch East Indies in the event of a German invasion of the Netherlands was a "serious possibility."

League Informed Farmers Are Eager For Lower Taxes

Representative of Survey Group Says Voluntary Contributions Keep Opposition Alive

The farming population of Ulster county appears to be keenly anxious to secure lower tax burdens. They are particularly concerned regarding expenditures for roads and schools, delegates to the preliminary meeting for the purpose of organizing an Ulster County Taxpayers' League, held at the Governor Clinton Hotel last night, were told. At the same time it was stated that Kingston business men did not seem to be particularly concerned over taxes, the multitude of organizations and varied business affairs apparently occupying their time to the exclusion of matters of taxation reform and control of public expenditure.

The speaker was a representative of the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc., which has offices at 100 State street, Albany. In reply to a question as to "what keeps the organization going?" the meeting was told that it was supported by voluntary contributions on the part of citizens of the state who were awake to the peril involved in the steadily increasing flood of taxation and public expenditure and who hoped that through the efforts of the people of the county, state and nation might be made more "tax conscious."

Stretch Along Equator

From the Indian Ocean eastward into the Pacific, the islands stretched along the Equator for some 3,200 miles. They have an area of 733,642 square miles and support a population of 60,731,025, mostly native. The possessions have for many years enjoyed virtually a dominion status.

Rich in natural resources, many of which Japan lacks, the islands produce a considerable proportion of the world's supply of rubber, tin, quinine, copra and petroleum.

The United States depends on them for some of its most essential raw materials. American imports were valued at $93,156,000 in 1939, and exports to the islands totaled $35,398,000.

The sea lane distance between Batavia, Java, capital of the possessions, and Yokohama is 3,673 miles. The nearest major port to Batavia is Singapore, 606 miles away, where Great Britain has been building a huge naval base.

Other water route distances are: Manila, 1,795 miles; Hong Kong, 2,052; Guam, 2,600; and Honolulu, 5,910.

Concern has been growing in the East Indies over the progress of the Japanese "new order" program for Asia, and the Dutch possessions have spent over $16,000,000 in the United States for military aircraft and other war materials in the last three years.

The commerce department estimated that Americans have $70,000,000 invested in the Dutch East Indies and $19,000,000 in the Netherlands. The estimates, including long term investments such as property holdings and bondholdings, do not include any short-term funds held by Amer-

C.I. O. Takes 13 Of First 15 Units In Motor Factories

A. F. L. Affiliate Gains Majorities in Norwood Plants, but Seems to Be Loser

Detroit, April 18 (AP)—The United Automobile Workers (CIO) won 13 of the first 15 General Motors plants to report today in yesterday's bargaining election among more than 100,000 of the corporation's employees.

The AFL-affiliated United Automobile Workers gained majorities in two plants—the Chevrolet and Fisher Body units at Norwood, O.

Included in the UAW-CIO ranks were such large GM units as the Pontiac Motor Division and Fisher Body plants at Pontiac, Mich., the Oldsmobile and Fisher plants at Lansing, Mich., and the Fisher Body unit at Cleveland, O.

First Complete Report

The first report from a complete plant at Flint, Mich., largest center of G.M. operations with more than 35,000 eligible voters, gave the UAW-CIO a victory in the Fisher Body No. 2 factory, scene of one of the industry's big sit-down strikes in 1937. The Fisher No. 2 vote was: UAW-CIO 634; UAW-AFL 144; neither union, 16.

The Die Sinks Local of the International Association of Machinists (AFL) defeated the UAW-CIO in a departmental election in the Buick Motor plant at Flint, 70 to 16.

In the first 16 complete plant elections, the UAW-CIO had received 17,880 votes to 7,577 for the UAW-AFL.

Attitude Made Known

The President's attitude was made known after a conference late yesterday with Democratic members of the House committee studying relief needs.

Some well-informed legislators said the President took the position that no one could tell at this point whether the $985,000,000 would be sufficient and that if private industry, stimulated by war orders, absorbed sufficient unemployment, extra relief funds would not be required in the next fiscal year.

In addition, they said that tax receipts for last year were running about $300,000,000 ahead of expectations and that these, coupled with the prospect that Congress would effect a net saving of between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 in budget estimates, would make new taxes unnecessary at this session—provided the relief appropriation was held to $985,000,000.

Roosevelt Favors Spending Big Sum In Eight Months

Move Would Enable Chief Executive to Adhere to Budget, Get More Funds in Winter

Washington, April 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt was understood today to favor a flexible relief policy under which the WPA might spend $985,000,000, if necessary, in the eight months beginning July 1.

Congress expected the Chief Executive to send this recommendation to House leaders during the day. It would enable him to adhere to his original 1940-41 budget estimate for relief, but would open the way for additional funds next winter if economic conditions required them.

Economy Advocates, although planning to fight the proposal, said that Congress probably would approve it. Senator Adams (D-Colo.), chairman of the Senate committee which will handle the relief bill, objected to the eight months' basis.

"I think we should appropriate for a full year so we can know what the bill is going to be," he said.

Lone Charter Member Attends As Y. M. C. A. Opens Fund Drive

James F. Osterhout, the only charter member of the local Y. M. C. A., was introduced to a large gathering at the opening of the 75th Anniversary Finance Drive at the Y. M. C. A., last night.

The Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, declared in a talk to the campaign workers that the appointment of Bertrand Russell to the College of the City of New York was contrary to "fundamental principles" on which the Y. M. C. A. is based.

Dr. Seeley, the principal speaker at the meeting lashes at the efforts of totalitarian governments "are trying to drive God out of life" and at certain forces in this country which are "poisoning youth with cynicism, atheism and a spirit of revolt."

After denouncing "looseness" in modern life Dr. Seeley referred to the recent appointment of Russell which was overruled by the Court of Appeals. Dr. Seeley professed "a feeling of chagrin that a man like Bertrand Russell should be permitted to promulgate his loose standards of morals among youth today."

The association said Dr. Seeley, under such leadership as that of General Secretary Robert Sisson, has established a place in the community as a strong force for character building and he said it deserved the support and backing of all in the community.

"Such institutions as the Y. M. C. A. are the only ones that

Italy Is Given Warning

London, April 18 (AP)—Great Britain, through a key cabinet minister gave a hint to non-belligerent Italy today to watch her step and to Sweden a warning that she might be the next target of Nazi lightning.

At Sheffield last night the minister of economic warfare, Ronald H. Cross, declared that Italy "must behave as a neutral" if she wishes to be treated as one.

And warning Sweden that Germany might attack her within the next month to grab vital Swedish iron ore, Cross said "let Sweden see to it that she is not taken by surprise."

"We are ready," he added, "to give any help if she is attacked, but we must ask her to do everything possible to help herself."

Balkan newspapers are stressing dispatches saying that "Italy's hour for decision is near," and southeastern European nations are said to be placing less faith in Italy's influence toward keeping Germany out of the Balkans. The Italian press has suddenly presented a strongly pro-German view of the war and is belittling the allies' military strength.

Cross described the new Italian press tone as "hostile" and added: "That makes us reflect upon the attitude of Italy toward us."

Military observers, however, expressed the opinion that Premier Mussolini would be more impressed by the thundering guns of the

German Eye-Witness Account Of Two Naval Battles at Narvik

(A German eyewitness account of the two British-German naval battles of Narvik, disorganized jotted down in a little black diary by a youthful German naval commander wounded in the first conflict, was made available to The Associated Press in Berlin, whither the officer was flown for hospitalization.)

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

Berlin, April 18 (AP)—British forces "neither reached the harbor nor has a single Englishman reached land" at Narvik after two days of fighting, a German naval commander declared today.

Gerlach, an admiralty staff officer assigned to the chief of the destroyer flotilla in northern Norwegian waters, also told of the death in action of his chief, Commander Fritz Bonte, at Narvik.

Shortly after giving me the following diary of the Narvik action, the 33-year-old commander was decorated with the Iron Cross.

Ernst Raeder was taken to an unnamed hospital for treatment of a gash over his right eye, a dislocated right shoulder and a double fracture of the left arm.

"Let me just read from my diary," he said when asked just what happened at Narvik.

"You must excuse me if the items are merely jotted down and no effort at literary style has been made. Besides, naturally after being hit as I was by iron parts flying about, I didn't have much time to organize my material."

"We got to Narvik," he continued, "only a very brief period ahead of the English. (The Germans landed April 9.)

"Our troops were landed with the greatest speed. Soon it became evident how necessary this speed was, for only a short time after our British destroyers appeared before Narvik.

"Foggy weather alone had kept them from carrying out their command to invade Narvik the day before. Thus, in the final analysis, it was our better navigation skill which assured us priority. We simply risked running into the fjord despite weather conditions giving poor visibility.

"British Began Shooting"
"We had hardly set up our defenses when the British destroyers, at first invisible to us, began shooting into the city. We started a counter-attack immediately."

"I was standing on the bridge of the destroyer on which also our commodore (Fritz Bonte, whose death in action was reported by the high command) found himself.

"A hot fight ensued between our ships and our enemy.

"As soon as we started firing the English turned off. They were pursued by our destroyers which sank three British destroyers right off the bat and so badly damaged a fourth that it sank soon thereafter.

"Reports and detonations, repeated manifold by the echo of the mountains, resounded across the harbor and fjord.

"Suddenly there was an explosion in my immediate vicinity. Our ship had been hit.

"Heavy pieces of iron hurled into the air struck me and I was later brought ashore wounded.

"The first attack by the English had been repulsed.

"(The British reported they sank one destroyer and left others in flames in the first battle of Narvik. The British also admitted the loss of two destroyers. The Germans said they sank six British destroyers in the first two days of German occupancy of Narvik.)

Attack Repeated
"They later repeated their attack. In so doing they shot blindly into the city. They didn't attempt to concentrate on military aims. Dwelling houses at the harbor, rocks and Norwegian inhabitants who wanted to save themselves were targets for the planless attacks.

"Then came the major attack of Saturday. Our destroyers, still ready for a fight, ward off an enemy tremendously superior to us in numbers and last torpedo had been fired.

"Again the fjord reverberated with the thunder of cannons and with explosions.

"The Englishmen couldn't carry out their command to enter the inner fjord. They neither reached the harbor nor has a single Englishman reached land."

This second encounter, Gerlach said, he watched from the tower on a hill above Narvik city.

(The British reported the destruction of seven German destroyers in the second fight and asserted their damages were only slight.)

"I myself was received in a friendly manner in Narvik Hospital together with our other wounded. Gerlach continued.

"The doctors and nurses of the city shared the care of the wounded. Inhabitants visited us and brought us friendly gifts.

"The transport back home of the injured was started. After the English reports had for days already been claiming the capture of Narvik, my turn came for transport home.

"Still in Our Hands"
"Narvik City, harbor, and the entire hinterland up to the Swedish border were still in our hands when we left Narvik by airplane. And so I arrived today in Berlin for a report and must go to a hospital tonight.

"Up there, however, the crews of our destroyers stand ready to defend the soil. After having shot all their munition at sea they will now, after Commodore Bonte's heroic death, continue to fight on land in the same spirit and determination.

(This seems to bear out the British contention that the German destroyers at Narvik were destroyed and the Berlin high command's report that the survivors joined German forces ashore.)

"That's the contribution of our

Three Men Beg To Escape Chair

Albany, N. Y., April 18 (P)—Three men condemned to Sing Sing prison's electric chair are seeking to escape the death penalty for first degree murder.

Gus Schweinberger, alias Gus Berger, Yorkville, appealed to Governor Lehman for clemency. He plead through counsel that a Westchester county jury which convicted him in the March 2, 1939, hammer killing of Fred Ludgid, Yorkville, was "prejudiced" because Berger admitted being on intimate terms with Ludwig's wife.

Oliver R. Aldridge and William

Wiley Page addressed their pleas to the court of appeals.

Aldridge and his wife were to fall heirs to the property of Dominick Gregory, 85, Olean, whom Aldridge was convicted of slaying December 5, 1939. The defense contends Aldridge meant only to frighten Gregory with a shotgun which the state says was purchased especially for the crime.

Paige, 22, of New York city, was condemned for fatally stabbing Robert Forbes, also of New York city, December 29, 1938. His lawyers argue Paige acted in self-defense.

During the single recent year the farmers of the United States paid out $170,402,000 for commercial fertilizer. Georgia, with $13,853,000, led all the other states; with Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina following in the order named.

Dally Says He Didn't Evade Tax

Newburgh, N. Y., April 18 (P)—Arthur R. Dally, under indictment on 247 counts of conniving in the audit of alleged fraudulent claims against Orange county for truck hire, has pleaded innocent to state income tax evasion charges. Dally is a brother of Joseph W. R. Dally, chairman of the county board of supervisors which at times has been at odds with Governor Lehman over progress of the Lehman-ordered inquiry into alleged official corruption in Newburgh and Orange county.

Hunter Praises Rabin

The current issue of the official Legion newspaper, "The New York State Legionnaire," in an open letter from Kent Hunter, department public relations director, to Jack Rabin, chairman on Americanism for the Ulster county Legion organization, praises the activity of the Legionnaire in Ulster county and rates Jack Rabin, its chairman on Americanism as "tops" for his activity in publicizing Legion events and his interpretation of Legion news.

Farm Realty Values Gain

Washington, April 18 (P)—American farm real estate values increased an average of one per cent during the year ended March 1, the bureau of agricultural economics reported today. However, the national average was about 15 per cent below the pre-World War base period. The bureau said the March 1 index was 85 as compared with 84 in 1939, 85 in 1937 and 1938 and 100 in 1912-14. New York state's index was 86, both last year and this.

In Scotland the principal local court is the Sheriff's Court.

INDIRECT TAXES
Housewives in various parts of the country are becoming tax conscious. This is a very healthful sign. The entire nation, the little man financially even more than the big one, can afford to become concerned about our tax bill.
Unfortunately the housewife seems to be concerned only with the sales tax. Doubtless this is because it is a tax assessed directly, and one which annoys her every time she goes to make a purchase.
But the sales tax is not the only one which the head of the family pays, no matter whether or not he is in the federal income tax paying class, or whether he is a real estate owner. For most of the taxes we pay are indirect.
Everyone who pays them, feels the downward pull of the federal and state income tax, the tax on the home, the farm and the store building. Even if the householder is not in the income tax brackets, and doesn't own his home, he must pay taxes in the way of higher rent, higher gas, electricity and telephone rates, higher prices for the coal he burns, for the food he eats and the clothing he wears.
These indirect taxes cannot be avoided. They go into making the retail prices everywhere. For example: when the public service commission permits a power plant, or a gas heating plant to charge a certain rate to its consumers, it takes into consideration the taxes the utility has to pay, and the higher the taxes the higher the rate for the product because no company can be forced to operate at a loss.
What is true of the increased cost of the products of our utilities is true, of course, of the food and the clothing we buy, the automobiles, the radios and every other commodity for which we spend our money. Higher real estate taxes, of course, make higher rents.

THE FOREST PRIME EVIL
In a Pennsylvania forest there is a fire prevention sign which consists of a huge reproduction of a match, with the following words: "This is the forest prime evil."
That terse slogan speaks volume. For destruction to our priceless forests is one of the most tragic phases of the fire problem. Anyone who has traveled in timber country has seen the wastelands, covered with black stumps, which fire leaves behind—the ruin where once were stately trees, busy communities of wild life, and beautiful recreation areas.
It will not be long now until the dangerous forest season is upon us. Good weather brings mounting hazards. Trees and underbrush dry to the point where they are virtually explosive. One touch of flame may be sufficient to cause a holocaust. And death and disaster follow.
The primary causes of forest fires are well known. Inexperienced and careless campers are among the worst offenders. Every man and woman who goes vacationing in the woods should keep this everlastingly in mind: Never leave a camp fire while a single spark remains alive. Douse it thoroughly with water or smother it with dirt.
Motorists are also responsible for ruinous forest fires. A cigarette butt cast from a fleeting car may supply the tiny flame that will spread until it has devastated thousands of acres of splendid woodland. Most of the states have laws designed to prevent this, but policemen and fire wardens can't be everywhere at once to see that the law is enforced. The public must cooperate.
Let's all work to save our forests this year. It takes centuries to replace great trees—and only seconds to destroy them. Don't forget that.

GRIDIRON DEMOCRACY
Those Gridiron Dinners at Washington are grand lessons in democracy. There is nothing like them anywhere else in the world. It was perhaps a more striking situation than ever before when, last Saturday night, the President and Vice President and heads of both houses of Congress and justices of the Supreme Court and the leading candidates for the presidency all sat and took it, while the newspaper men raked them fore and aft with wit and irony.

It must have been especially impressive to the foreign diplomats present. Many of them must have wondered how many of the correspondents would have been shot at sunrise, in their own countries, for taking such liberties with the mighty. Also how many of the presidential candidates, "taking it" with such sportsmanship, would have been organizing armed insurrections if they were citizens of various other countries that might be named.
It's a grand thing to continue giving the Old World, and also some of our Pan-American neighbors, such lessons in applied democracy.

WOODEN HORSES
Hobby horses seem to have given place to Trojan horses. It is remarkable how often that old Greek trick for getting inside the walls of beleaguered Troy turns up again in these days.
The Germans were credited with getting possession of the important Norwegian ore harbor, Narvik, by smuggling soldiers into the city in the guise of civilian sailors, and it took a tremendous effort on the part of the British to dislodge them. The same procedure was used on a still larger scale in Oslo.
One phase of this ancient strategy, however, is strikingly modern. The Germans increasingly substitute airships for wooden or mechanized horses, and drop from the sky, with weapons and supplies, into cities they cannot take by frontal attack.
We Americans are still safe from such strategy, but it will doubtless be used against us some day.

What a load it would take off the national mind if we could leave all the politics to the college mock conventions!
The worst thing about an election year is the way so many people lose their sense of humor.
The biggest test of civilization is the free existence of small nations.
The American safety valve is the right to talk back.

THAT BODY OF YOURS
By James W. Barton, M.D.
(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)
BILIOUS HEADACHE
I have spoken before of trying to make up a list of the causes of headache. After reaching about one hundred causes and noting that these causes were often related to one another, I stopped further search. I have since found an encyclopedia which lists over one hundred and thirty causes.
However, in medicine, physicians look for commonest causes first and so eye strain, stomach, liver and intestinal disturbances form the largest number of headaches.
For a time many physicians declared that there was no such ailment as biliousness, but it is generally agreed that biliousness does occur and that taking a dose of Epsom salts and doing without food for 36 hours is good treatment.
What about bilious headache? "A bilious headache felt at the brow, behind the eyes, and in the back of the head, often accompanied with vomiting and retching, is part of the group of systems known as toxemia (poison in the blood) of the gall bladder. It is a noteworthy point that abdominal pain is not present in a true bilious pain. (Except, of course, the pain in muscles of abdomen due to vomiting or retching.)" I am quoting Dr. Harold Dodd in The Practitioner.
These headaches respond well to flushing of the gall bladder by Epsom salts taken early in the morning. The dose should be one teaspoonful or more, and must be so gauged to the individual that a soft but not a watery stool results. After taking the Epsom salts, the patient lies on the right side for half an hour (or three-quarters), after which a tumbler of water, either hot or cold, is taken. In addition pure bile salts — not combination of bile salts with other substances — are given three times a day in ordinary doses. This treatment is continued for about two weeks.
It should be remembered that the bilious headache does not usually result from one big meal but from persistent overeating of rich foods. By using a level teaspoonful of Epsom salts every morning for a week, once a month, bilious headache may often be avoided.
The point about lying on the right side for 30 to 45 minutes after taking the salts is important as the Epsom salt solution practically syphons out of stomach into first part of small intestine into which the gall bladder empties.

TILLSON
Tillson, April 18—Friends Church, the Rev. Anson Coutant, pastor—Sunday school at 10 a. m. Church service at 11 o'clock.
Reformed Church, the Rev. Benjamin Thaden, pastor—Church service, 9:30 a. m. Sabbath school at 10:30 o'clock.
The Ladies' Aid Society held its annual meeting last week Thursday in the church hall. The date for the annual dinner at Maple Arch Homestead was set for Saturday, May 12. The May business meeting of the society will be held at this time. The treasurer's annual report was in the treasury April 1, 1939, $600. Receipts during the year $406.15, making a total of $1,006.15. Paid out during the year $646.15, leaving in the treasury April 1, 1940 the sum of $360.15. This large sum of money included the cost of a new stove and enlargement and refurnishing of the church kitchen. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss Ada Craig; vice president, Mrs. D. D. Haines; secretary, Mrs. Arthur Deyo; assistant secretary, Mrs. H. Osmer; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Merrihew. At the close of business session refreshments were served by Mrs. A. Merrihew and Miss Ruth Davis.
Sunday, April 14, was the 80th birthday of the Rev. Irving Porter Emerick and was a very happy occasion. His brothers and sister came Saturday to spend the day with him and to bring greetings. The Ladies' Aid Society sent flowers and Tillson friends a shower of birthday cards. The Sunday school gave him a $5 bill and relatives sent telegrams of congratulation. Richard Emerick and family brought him a beautifully decorated birthday cake and Everett Schutt and family a basket of fruit. Others gave him gifts of money, candy and nuts.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Cornell called at the home of Mrs. Will Deyo last week.
Miss Alice Sigrist entertained a friend from Poughkeepsie over the week-end.

Mrs. Dan Reilly and sons, visited relatives in Modena, Monday.
Mrs. Eugene Paltridge spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lozier, at Savitlon.

Kerhonkson Union School Activities
The last regular meeting of the P. T. A. was held on Wednesday evening, April 10. An election of officers for the coming year was held and the following were elected for the 1940-41 term: President, Mrs. Millard Davis; vice-president, Mrs. Clifford L. Rall; secretary, Mrs. Irving West; treasurer, Mrs. James Marquit. The Regent's Inquiry was discussed by various members of the faculty. Principal Clifford L. Rall discussed the administrative and financial problems of school enrollment. Mr. Fletcher gave the underlying principles in school changes during this century. Miss Besdesky spoke on "The Schools Which New York State Wants."

Graduation of 1940 Class
The largest class in the history of Kerhonkson High School will be graduated on the evening of Monday, June 24. Forty-four boys and girls will receive their diplomas at that time. Cleon B. Murray, former district attorney of Ulster county will be the commencement speaker.
Yearbook Nears Completion
The yearbook for 1940, "Council Fires," is nearing completion. The current issue which will be distributed on Moving-Up Day, May 31, will be considerably larger than last year's issue and will include more literary material and individual pictures.
Women's Glee Club
A women's glee club is to be formed under the direction of Charles F. Green, head of the music department. Membership in the club is open to all women in the community. The interest displayed to date in the project gives promise of a group of singers, who will equal in number the membership of the men's glee club.

Three Kings in Scandinavia Are Members of One Big Family

GUSTAV V. King of Sweden
The Swedish king started his reign with a headstrong attitude toward his domestic and foreign problems, but gradually melted into a democratic ruler. Today, he is widely known simply as "Mr. G." He is 81. He plays a good game of tennis, drops in on his soldiers occasionally and takes a hand at bridge. He lives simply, walks a good deal. His tall, gangling figure is subject of much good-natured cartooning.
In 1914 he summoned a Scandinavian council to discuss the problems brought on by the war. When this war started, he called a similar council. During the Russo-Finnish hostilities Gustav took a strong stand against involving Sweden by sending an army to aid Finland.
HAAKON VII. King of Norway
When he took the crown in 1906, King Haakon VII became Norway's first independent monarch in 455 years. From 1450 to 1814, Norway had shared kings with Denmark, and from 1814 to 1905 with Sweden. Norway declared her independence in 1905, and the second son of the then crown prince of Denmark was made king.
He took the name "Haakon." In Oslo, he lives simply, plays bridge, skis in deference to his subjects, goes to church every Sunday, accepts the constitutional limitations placed on him. One important event of his reign was the recognition of his country's claim to mineral-rich Spitzbergen Island, which Norway has demanded for centuries. He is now 67 years old.
CHRISTIAN X. of Denmark
The title of tallest king in Europe belongs to 6-foot-6-inch Christian X. king of Denmark and Iceland, and brother of Haakon VII. Their families and that of Gustav, of Sweden, often have intermarried. Christian, who is 69, took the Danish throne in 1912. His reign was marked by several territorial changes including recognition of the independence of Iceland (he remained its king), the sale of the Danish West Indies (re-named Virgin Islands) to the United States, and the return of the province of Schleswig by Germany after the World-War.
Christian is an ardent sportsman, indulging in horseback riding and sailing. He makes it a practice to drop in unannounced at the homes of his subjects.

Diplomats in Washington Expect European War to Include More Neutral Countries in Six or Eight Weeks
By DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1940)
Washington, April 18—Extension of the European war to include more neutral countries is confidently expected by diplomatic Washington within the next six or eight weeks.
The countries which are expected to be invaded soon are Sweden and Hungary. This may tend to draw other countries into the war. The information reaching here from diplomatic sources abroad of a reliable character is that Premier Mussolini has agreed to take Italy into the war just as soon as the Balkan situation moves into another crisis which is expected to be precipitated when Germany starts out to "protect" Hungary.
The allies it is believed here have received the same information and are preparing to act accordingly. Those who are in a position to know say that the die has been cast by Italy and that the next move will be timed to coincide with the invasion of Hungary.
As for Sweden, the Nazis are believed to be ready to extend their military operations just as soon as it becomes apparent that control of Sweden railroads is necessary to bring the much-needed iron ore through the Baltic when navigation opens.
The Washington government has been receiving reports of this kind for a long time, but does not make them public because they have too often in the past been premature. But the government is nevertheless on its guard in warning Americans resident abroad to make the necessary preparations and adjustments.
Official Washington has four channels of information—allyed sources, Nazi sources, neutral sources and American government sources. Lately most of the information that has been coming here has arrived through neutral governments. The department of state is able to check through its own diplomatic representatives abroad, but secrets of this kind are well kept. The information that Italy will soon enter the war on the side of the Nazis does not come from the American government. It comes from informants who know the central European situation and have communicated it to various governmental representatives here and abroad.
The entry of Italy into the war would be a regrettable step viewed from the standpoint of the United States. At present, the situation is a sense of awareness of critical events impending. The whole domestic situation is, of course, affected by drastic changes in trade and foreign exchange relationships. While there is the usual talk about America possibly being dragged into anything, this is not supported by anything in official position or saying or doing. The prospect is that America will have a year of worry, of loss in trade and financial disturbance as the European war gradually extends its battlefields.

Parent-Teacher Ass'n
School No. 7
The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 7 met Tuesday evening at the school. A short business meeting was held, during which the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Clifford DuMont; first vice president, Mrs. Edmund Bower; second vice president, Mrs. Frederick Merritt; treasurer, Mrs. James Nekos. Banners for attendance were awarded to the rooms of Miss Lutzin, Miss Zoller and Miss Feldman. A program was presented by the children under the leadership of Harold Darrin, as follows:
"Skaters Waltz," Charles Roder, trumpet, Benjamin Short, trumpet, Jack Matthews, trumpet, Robert Murray, clarinet.
"Marines March," same players.
"Abide With Me," Patricia Donohue, flute; accompanist, Rhoda Buch, piano.
"Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star," Vincent Suckles, trumpet, Virginia Brower, trumpet, Frank Rockwell, trumpet, James Matthews, clarinet, Rhoda Buch, accompanist, piano.
"Argonaise," by Massenet, Rita Friedman, piano solo.
"South of the Border," Anna Greenberg, vocal solo.
"Balalaika," Peter and Maria Nekos, clarinet and piano.
Principal John J. Finerty presented Superintendent Arthur Laidlaw, who gave a most instructive and interesting discussion on "The Grouping of Students and the Term Test." Mr. Laidlaw expressed deep gratification for this free country in which free education of all children is given. He enumerated the responsibilities of the average parent and contracted the "good old days" of the three R's, and the good new days with the added S's, the social sciences.
Since the four objectives of school are vocational, cultural, scientific and patriotic, the child is trained to do something and to be something. Education, he said, will cost more in view of the increased registration in high schools which in turn will raise the age requirement for the issuing of working papers. There is before the governor of New York state a bill for the discontinuance of part time schools which will necessitate the absorption of these students in the high schools. This will bring up the question of grouping of students.
Mr. Laidlaw said that if homogeneous grouping is desired tests within limits may be given to determine native abilities of the children, and the mentally deficient may be segregated in special groups where work fitted to their ability may be given and happy results obtained.
Mr. Laidlaw exhibited a chart showing results in tabulation made from Terman tests given in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Seven or eight tests are given each child. He also stressed the importance of the best teachers for early grades where there are all types of mental ability.
Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.
In early presidential elections no uniform method of choosing electors was followed. The legislatures frequently named them.

Assembly Program
At last Friday's assembly program the student body was entertained by feats of ventriloquism performed by Miss Carolyn Penzato, a student at New Paltz High School. Miss Penzato and her dummy "Tommy" kept the students amused for 45 minutes. The program was sponsored by the Kerhonkson Union Student's Association.
Moving-Up Day
Plans are well under way for Moving-Up Day exercises which will be conducted May 31. Moving-Up Day this year promises to be one of the best ever held in the history of the school.

Poletti to Talk Before Debaters

An address by Lt. Governor Charles Poletti to Student Congress in the auditorium of the Highland High School will be the highlight of the National Forensic League New York district tournament to be held at Highland April 19 and 20. He will discuss two problems for the student legislators: Discrimination because of race, color, creed and ancestry in public business and in labor unions; enlargement of employment opportunities for young people and combating unwholesome influences which unemployment generates. The address, scheduled for 7:30 o'clock, will be open to the public.

State-wide interest in the 1940 tournament has led to the largest registration of participants in the history of the annual event. Already over 175 have registered, with indications the figures will be well over the 200 mark. Students from Jamestown, Hornell, Canisteo, Syracuse, Rome, Norwich, Gloversville, Saugerties, Highland, Dwight (New York city), Mineola, Malverne and Freeport have won out in the preliminary tournaments and earned the right to compete in the finals, for which 125 judges will assist in determining the champions for 1940.

The various events will be: Dramatic, humorous, and oratorical declamation, original oratory, extemporaneous speaking, poetry reading, and debate. The winners earn the right to enter the national tournament to be held at Terre Haute the next week. The Student Congress will meet at the same time as the other events are being held. The program as released by John Crowley, New York chairman, is:

Friday, April 19
Registration until noon.
Luncheon at St. Augustine's Church, 12 noon.
Assembling of contestants and judges, reading for extempore, 1 o'clock.
Round I of speech contests, meeting of student congress, 1:30 o'clock.
Round II of speech contests, 3 o'clock.
Banquet at Methodist Church, 5 o'clock.

Saturday, April 20
Reading for extempore, 9 o'clock.
Assembling of contestants and judges, 9:15 o'clock.
Round III of speech contests, round III of debate, 9:45 o'clock.
Round IV of debate, 11 o'clock.
Luncheon at Presbyterian Church, noon.
Finals and announcements, 1 o'clock.

Coincidence, All Right
Roanoke, Va. (AP)—Raymond A. Ray's initials read the same way—R. A. R.—either backward or forward. So do his telephone number, 2,5952, and his automobile license, 88-288, both of which were given to him without pre-arrangement.

At the end of the sixth month of the state egg-laying tests, New York pens are well among the leaders. In the western test at Stafford, 12 New York pens are among the first twenty.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

— And Death
Los Angeles—Patrick C. Foley, member of a jury hearing a murder case, felt something run up his trousers leg.
He loosened his belt, reached in and pulled out a mouse by the tail. A bailiff killed the mouse, and the trial continued.

Sign—Fine
Waseca, Minn.—When police arrested Lawrence E. Lafave after an accident in which he was alleged to have driven through a stop sign and struck two automobiles, they found in the back of his car a sign which read:
"Look both ways before crossing."
Lafave, who said he was a state highway employee, was fined $100 or 90 days in jail.

No Wooden Nickel?
Portland, Me.—Police have what they deem the nonpareil in "rubber" checks.
Printed by hand on plain paper, it was drawn for $20 on a non-existent "Boston School Trust Company." The names of a signer, payee, and endorser were the same and all were handprinted.
A dress-shop clerk accepted the "check" in payment for merchandise and gave a man $9 in change, police were told.

Found Gravy
Memphis, Tenn., (AP)—Every silver lining can have its dark cloud. J. M. Walker's telephone rang. "Jim, we've got $150 of your money on deposit," a bank's teller said. "It's been here 22 years," Walker didn't remember it. But he got the money, spent it. The sad part was that the account was non-interest bearing.

By L. L. STEVENSON

Fate: In the World war he saw much service in the front line but came home without a scratch. Shortly after the war he was flying with a friend in the West. The motor went dead in a section where jagged rocks made death seem certain. But the machine came down in a spot so smooth a perfect three-point landing was made. About 10 years ago, while riding in the subway, he got up and gave his seat to a woman. The train went through a switch and the woman and a number of other passengers were killed. He was only shaken up a little. At Christmas time he was the only one of five to escape unhurt in an automobile collision on Long Island. Recently he moved to the country because he wanted more quiet. While he was reading, a bronze bookend fell off the bookcase and struck him on the head. That was three weeks ago and he's still in a hospital.

Looking Backward: Josef Lhevinne, pianist, the other evening told the story of his first drink of champagne. When a lad he was touring in the Caucasus mountain areas. As was the custom of the grand duke in whose home he was to give his concert, he had to join in a toast to each of the guests with an additional tumbler of champagne to the health of their families.

"When I sat down at the piano," said Lhevinne, "I thought I was sober. I played the slow movement all right and then came a more rapid one. As my hands raced over the keyboard I became dizzier and dizzier. Finally I rose and apologized to the Grand Duke.

"Your highness," I said, "I am sorry. I am not accustomed to playing a piano with two keyboards."

Complaint: In a brief note, Eddie Duchin means of his new travail. The bandman and ladies' man, on a tour of the Southland with his orchestra, murmurs petulantly that he has lost his sunburn. He left his sun lamp up north! Of all the baton wavers, Duchin is most jealous of his tan. When Old Sol is truant during his New York engagements, he schedules his day to allow for an interval with the violet ray. In the spring and summer he generally can be found on the roof top of whatever hotel he is playing, an athletic figure in striped shorts. But he had the ill fortune to head south during the cold snap below the Mason-Dixon line. So Duchin quips: "This southern sun is terrific! Even some of the snow is melting."

Street Scene: Fifth avenue during the height of the shopping rush. Grand dames haughtily entering or leaving limousines. . . . Doorman bowing respectfully. . . . Window shoppers gazing at $2.00 bargains in mink coats. . . . The heads of women turning as if on pivots as they walk on by some display that attracts their attention. . . . Shoppers, their arms burdened with bundles and worried expressions on their faces. . . . A broken-nosed grayhead chewing on a cigar as he regards with speculative eye a showing of diamond cuff links. . . . A man lurches his way through the throng. . . . Someone murmurs, "Another drunk," and women shrink away. . . . In front of a glittering window, the man loses his balance and falls. . . . A policeman hurries up and makes a quick examination. . . . "Stand back, he's dead" . . . and a sudden silence.

Coincidence: Lily Pons, as a proud "stepdaughter" of Connecticut, made a one-minute recording of a speech at a midtown studio the other day for Governor Baldwin's safety campaign. Then Miss Pons hurried into a taxi to go to the Metropolitan opera house for her rehearsal. On the way, the famed coloratura was delayed—the car ahead of her smacked into another while turning the Fortieth street corner.

End Piece: A bright young thing came into a telegraph office in Radio City and after addressing a message wrote on word, "Yes." Just to be helpful, the man behind the counter pointed out that she could send 10 words for the same price. "Thanks," said the miss, "I'll just send one yes. If I said it 10 times he might think I'm too anxious." (Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

British Viscount Serves

As a Batman for Padre
LONDON.—When a certain padre of the Royal Engineers rings for his batman the bell is answered by a peer of the realm, descendant of one of the oldest families in Wales. He is Viscount St. Davids, 22. And he is useful in more ways than one. When the padre wished that he had a mobile cinema for the troops in isolated spots the batman bought the whole affair. St. Davids was made a batman by the regimental sergeant major because he happened to be the only man in a squad who could drive a car when the padre was in need of assistance.

How happily the Grange unites rural and urban interests was recently illustrated in Randolph county, North Carolina. Trinity Grange, a lively subordinate of that county, has become the possessor of a fine new hall, made possible not only by the efforts of the members, but through the generous cooperation of business men from the towns of Thomasville and High Point.

METTACAHONTS
Mettacahonts, April 17.—A hot Virginia baked ham supper will be served at the Mettacahonts Hall Thursday evening, April 25, from 6 o'clock until all are served.

Sunday school Sunday at the Mettacahonts Hall at 9:15 a. m. The Willing Workers Club met with Mrs. Archie Deputy last Wednesday afternoon with 15 members, four visitors and three children present. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Hendrickson.

Mrs. Ella Wood entertained at dinner Friday Mrs. Rose Baker, Mrs. Tracy Baker, Mrs. Della Baker, Mrs. Jesse Osterhoudt, Miss Olive Osterhoudt and Mrs. Harry Osterhoudt.

Miss Alberta Wager of Wurtemburg is visiting at the home of Miss Virginia Christey. Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Baker, son, Lowell, Mrs. Rose Baker, Mrs. Della Baker and son, Benson, were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Baker. Miss Jennie Osterhoudt of Kyserike spent Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Osterhoudt.

daughter Olive, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Osterhoudt. Mrs. Clarissa Hogan of Long Island spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Deputy. Mrs. Clarissa Hogan of Long Island and Mrs. Spencer Traver were dinner guests of Mrs. Kenneth Rider Sunday evening.

Must Look Ahead For Missionaries

Long-range planning is needed for a school for missionaries, hence notices have already been sent to all parts of the globe about the twelfth annual school at Cornell, January 20 to February 15, 1941. The school has grown in importance each year and has led to the formation of similar ones in other universities, reports Professor C. A. Taylor, in charge of the short courses at Cornell. This year 41 missionaries attended the schools at Ithaca, and represented 15 foreign countries and the United States and eight mission boards and denominations. Most of them were from China and India.

The school was formed 12 years ago because missionaries have found that their problems deal with nutrition, food supplies, sanitation, family life, and community-social relationships.

The more a missionary knows about these subjects, the more it is believed he can help his community. Courses are offered in agriculture, family life education, sociology, nutrition and health, and rural education. In addition, the missionaries study special problems, have their own conferences, and take field trips.

In connection with the 1941 session, a two-day rural missions conference is scheduled for February 7 and 8. Missionaries, board secretaries, local pastors and associated workers will be present.

Boy Scout News

Third Session Held

Sixty Scouters of the Ulster-Greene Council met at the municipal auditorium Wednesday evening for the third session of the Elements of Scoutmastership, a training course for Scout leaders. The Grizzly patrol had charge of the opening ceremony and gave a different type than had been presented before. The first discussion period was on "The Program of Scouting and how it is used," this was led by the Rev. H. I. Todd, scoutmaster of Troop No. 34 of Woodstock. The patrol leaders led their patrols in a discussion of the right type of program for a troop meeting and then brought the findings of the group to the discussion period.

The scoutmaster then gave the patrols competition in knots and many different ways which may be used to teach boys this knowledge. The second discussion period was on "Relations of the troop leaders to program development." A fine suggestion as to which leaders have charge of different sections of a troop meeting and how the boys themselves may assist in planning and operating the troop. The closing ceremony was led by the Frontiersmen Patrol. The group will meet again next Wednesday evening at the city court room, city hall.

A new Sea Scout Ship is organized to be sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Kingston with their boys work committee to serve as the ship committee and with Karl Sutter as skipper and Charles Burke as first mate. This group is to meet each Wednesday night in the hall just in back of the Cornell Hose Co. The room has been loaned to the Sea Scouts by the city recreation department. The boys who have signed up for this group are George Bates and Harry Skerritt of Hurley, Robert Winnie, William Kinch, Donald Dumm, Gordon Craig, Robert Beatty, John Tancredi, Arthur Crawford, Charles Martini, Robert Simpkins and John Warren of Kingston. All of these boys have been connected with scouting and are at least first class scouts.

League Informed Farmers Are Eager For Lower Taxes

sition, as being free from debt, was commented upon favorably, and credit for this most desirable condition of affairs was given to Philip Elting, veteran Republican county leader. At the same time attention was called, briefly, to total expenditures in the county as shown by the supervisors' minutes for 1938, special reference being made to expenditure of $285,000 on highway maintenance, $212,000 for general government, $348,000 for public welfare and nearly $600,000 for permanent improvements. A survey which had been made, covering some half dozen or more counties, also was shown which indicated that Ulster county's per capita cost of government was around $3 higher than the average of all those surveyed. It was further suggested that this might indicate a possible saving of a considerable amount of money to taxpayers if expenditures were more carefully scrutinized.

No. 1 Problem
A picture, "America's No. 1 Problem," was shown. It gave a figure of nearly eighteen billions of dollars for local, state and federal expenditures in 1937—a sum equal to all the state and federal income from all sources of all the states west of the Mississippi river. To meet this, cooperation on the part of all taxpayers, regardless of political affiliations, was suggested, with the "substituting of fact-finding for fault-finding" as the effective method of procedure.

In answer to a question by George A. Neher of Woodstock, as to whether the state organization had worked against state money for schools, it was stated that it had not, as a rule, but that a recommendation had been made to the state budget committee this year that a cut of approximately ten per cent be made, secured through a reduction in higher salary brackets. It was held, too, that state aid should be on a basis that would favor schools in the poorer districts, where it was really needed.

Lake, mathematics and science; Frederick Heinsch, agriculture; Florence Caffrey, art; Leonard Wood, physical education; Jane M. Kingsley, English and French; Dora Warner Arras, music; Evelyn DuBois, District No. 2, New Paltz; Mrs. Cornelia Shirley, District No. 4, New Paltz; Frances Rose Sutherland, District No. 5, New Paltz; Mrs. Agnes Van Orden, District No. 2, Gardiner; Mrs. Emma Bahr, District No. 3, Gardiner; Kathleen Moran, District No. 4, Gardiner and Mrs. Vera Atkins, District No. 5, Gardiner.

Mrs. Elting Clearwater has returned home from the Kingston Hospital.

Mrs. Marinus Petersen has returned home from Florida, where she spent the winter.

Albert Van Vliet of Amsterdam, Mrs. Francis J. Hargraves and George Van Vliet of Kingston, called on Mrs. Webb Kniffen and daughter, Monday morning.

New Paltz Girl Scout troop met Friday afternoon. Mrs. Albert Weisz, assistant leader, was welcomed back by the troop after being ill for several weeks. Miss Finetta Norton the local director, met with the troop and gave valuable suggestions to the girls and their leaders. A few days later Miss Norton visited the New Paltz Brownie Pack which is under the leadership of Mrs. Irving Kortright, Jr., Mrs. Cornelius Boland and Miss Marie Jenkins.

Mrs. Emma Terwilliger of Clintonville has recently received word that she has passed the examination given by the State Board of Examiners of Nurses at Welfare Island, and she is now a licensed practical nurse.

Miss Nellie Cole called on Miss Emma Neil on the New Paltz and Kingston road, Sunday afternoon.

The April meeting of the Dutch Arms was held in the Dutch Reformed Church, parlor, Tuesday evening. Warden Walter Wallach, chief of Walkkill State Prison, was the guest speaker. He informed those present of the operations of the local institution and also said the average cost of maintaining a prisoner in New York state is about $580 a year and there are approximately 24,000 criminals incarcerated in our state institutions. At the conclusion of Mr. Wallach's talk there was a 15 minute discussion and many questions. Fred Van Deusen, amateur magician, then gave a fine performance. Charles Huntington and orchestra furnished music. Refreshments of ginger bread with whipped cream, coffee, candy, peanuts and cigars, were served by the committee Jay Zimmerman, Lloyd Smith and Louis Van DeMark, and all enjoyed a social hour.

Pearl Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands was leased to the United States as a naval base in 1887.

Flynn Is Elected

New York, April 17 (AP)—Bronx Democratic Leader Edward J. Flynn was elected chairman of the party's executive county committee tonight for the 10th consecutive year. Flynn, who has been secretary of state, city chamberlain, sheriff and assemblyman, is now U. S. commissioner general to the New York World's Fair.

River, Come Back

Richmond, Va., (AP)—The Virginia Highway Department would like to find a "lost" spring. Commissioner Henry G. Shirley said the spring disappeared after the department had made improvements on a secondary road nearby. The property owner, claiming that blasting by the highway department caused his spring to dry up, has brought suit for damages. "Maybe if we found the spring it would help," Shirley said.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, aversion to food, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Kansas City, (AP)—There's a $10,000 trust fund in Kansas that assures "needy horses" of a free Christmas dinner of oats. The fund was set up by the late Mrs. Emma W. Robinson of Olathe. Each horse is allowed one bushel. In 1937, 250 bushels of oats were purchased but only 150 needy horses could be found. Since then the humane society has been able to dispose of about 200 bushels each Christmas.

Two Congressmen Hold 'Parties' And One of Them Draws a Crowd

By JACK STINNETT

Washington — Representative Martin Dies gave a party the other day—and nobody came. Congress No. 1 smellerouter of subversive propaganda had an uncle from Texas in town and was showing him the sights.

On Saturday, when all is ordinarily quiet and peaceful here, Mr. Dies spread word among the boys in the House press gallery that he was having a little luncheon at the Mayflower. There would be steaks and liquors and things. Mr. Dies was not going to make any important announcement, it was said—but who knows what will pop out at a party given by Mr. Dies? And besides there would be Mr. Dies' uncle and just to show Uncle that Mr. Dies had the situation well in hand, there might be a word or two of importance.

Under such circumstances, Mr. Dies no doubt should have gotten a good turnout. Uncle could have told the folks back home in Texas just how solidly Mr. Dies was in with the Washington press.

But Howard W. Smith, Virginia—the old meanie—threw a curve to Mr. Dies. Mr. Smith's House labor committee came through just at high noon with a big story on their NLRB recommendations—and if there was a man in the House press gallery that had lunch that day, it was graham crackers and milk about 3 p. m.

Now do you know why Mr. Dies gave a party and nobody came?

I'm still wondering what he told Uncle.

Speaking of parties, Representative Foster Stearns of New Hampshire and Mrs. Stearns gave a tea the other day and although you couldn't count the guests, there wasn't a Democrat in the whole kaboodle. Which may show which way the Republicans around here THINK the 1940 political wind is blowing.

The Federal Communications Commission gets the darndest requests. A New Englander wants it to put a ban on war songs. A Pennsylvanian objects to kiddie serials using the terms "Injuns" and "Redskins." (What are you listening to those things for anyway, Mister?) An Ohioan says radio shouldn't pay any attention to daylight saving. An Illinois listener wants a ban on cooking recipes that cook up into a mess. A New Yorker says a certain religious program offends him. A woman in Massachusetts says she's been cleaning her teeth with a certain tooth paste for weeks and that the radio commercial is all a lie. An Indiana chappie says that astrological stuff on the radio gives him a pain in the neck. A Philadelphia brother wants all old jokes put on the blacklist. (Are you comedians listening?)

The FCC couldn't correct any one of these things if it wanted to. If you have radio complaints (and who hasn't?) make them to your local station or to the chains.

While we are on the subject of words and phrases in the ether, can any one give me a catchphrase for "SSSS"? Those are the marine radio call letters, used since the beginning of the war, to mean just the opposite of "SOS." "SSSS" means "stay away from us" and generally is used when a ship spots a submarine in the offing and doesn't want to endanger sister ships. But no one yet has been able to figure out a catch phrase that will make the letters as well known as "SOS."

Here's how jittery the silence of President Roosevelt about his third-term plans has made the state politicians: In 21 states, the dates for the Democratic state conventions have not even been set, although it's nearing the point when you can count the weeks to the national convention on your fingers.

Out of the 27 states in which dates have been set, there are 15 in which the dates are set by law. In other words, in only 12 states have the Democrats had courage even to plan their conventions without knowing what the President is going to do. The point is, you can't climb on a bandwagon until you see one. And what state politicians fear most is getting on the wrong cart.

MARTIN DIES

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, April 17 — The Rev. and Mrs. F. K. Shields of Ridgefield Park, N. J., were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Wyck.

Hallock Sutton and little grandson of Walden and Clarence Gummerson of Brooklyn were callers at the home of the former's sister on Sunday.

Several people from here attended the Walden Reformed Church Sunday afternoon and evening and heard a message given by Dr. Paul Harrison, missionary surgeon to Arabia.

The Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Elwood Powell on Thursday afternoon, April 11. Leader for the afternoon was Miss Bertha Sutton, who had arranged the following program: Opening hymn, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say"; Scripture reading, Mrs. Tyse; Lord's Prayer; hymn, "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing"; subject, "Turning Wheels in India"; introduction, by leader; reading "The Miracle of Modern India," Mrs. Perry DuBois; reading "The Unthinkable," Mrs. Nelson Hedges; reading "India's Rural Millions," Mrs. Edward Humphrey; hymn, "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life"; reading, "Ministry of Healing in India," Mrs. W. J. Van Wyck; reading, "Higher Christian Education in India," Mrs. John Tyse; reading, "The Christian Church in India," Mrs. Charles White; reading, "Facing the Future Task," Mrs. William Powell; prayer; closing hymn, "When Thy Heart With Joy O'erflows." Election of officers also took place at this meeting with the following results: President, Mrs. John W. Tyse; vice president, Mrs. Perry DuBois; secretary, Mrs. W. J. Van Wyck; treasurer, Mrs. Burton Ward. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess. The following members were present: Mrs. E. A. Radiker, Mrs. William Powell, Mrs. Charles White, Mrs. Edward Humphrey, Mrs. Perry DuBois, Mrs. Nelson Hedges, Mrs. Burton Ward, Mrs. George Sherwood, Mrs. Nils Nelson, Mrs. W. J. Van Wyck, Mrs. John Tyse, Mrs. Arthur Minard, Mrs. M. L. Birch, Mrs. Edward Powell, Miss Bertha Sutton and the hostess, Mrs. Powell.

The Young Women's Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. William Everts, Jr., Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Edward Humphrey as assistant hostess. The president, Mrs. Alex Thorne, presided. Plans were made for the annual club party to be held at the church hall on Thursday evening, April 18, with Mrs. Elmer Fries as chairman. The following members were present: Nellie

Protest Naming Taylor to Vatican

Forty-three ministers and elders representing 22 churches at a meeting of the Presbytery of the North River held on Tuesday afternoon in the Presbyterian Church at Highland adopted a resolution protesting appointment of Myron C. Taylor as the unofficial ambassador to the Vatican in Rome.

In explanation of the action the Rev. Devello S. Haynes, minister of the Highland church, said it was based on the belief of the Presbyterian group that Taylor's appointment "was in violation of the old established principle of separation of church and state."

"The same group," the Rev. Mr. Haynes said, "is in sympathy with the movement of the Catholic church for peace."

The action, it was explained, was in line with similar protest votes taken by other groups within the Presbyterian church. The mid-Hudson presbytery's action will be communicated to the general assembly of the church at its national meeting at Rochester May 23-29.

Dr. Harold Benner Kerschner, minister of the First Presbyterian church of Poughkeepsie, moderator of the North River presbytery, presided.

Mr. Haynes explained that the North River presbytery includes membership from clergy and laity of Dutchess, Ulster and Orange counties, plus a part of Putnam county.

The Highland minister was named chairman of a committee on ministerial relations which was established. The committee will have charge of vacant churches, and will counsel with churches or ministers concerning any problems of the work.

Serving with Mr. Haynes on the committee will be Dr. Kerschner, the Rev. Charles K. Imbrie, minister of the First Presbyterian church, Newburgh; and Elders John R. Thompson of Amenia; Chester Husted, Pleasant Valley; and Chester E. Wolven, Little Britain.

Commissioners were elected to represent the presbytery at the general assembly in Rochester. Mr. Imbrie, the Rev. F. Barcroft Ackley, minister of the Wappingers Falls Presbyterian church, and the elders will be Charles Halstead of Pleasant Plains, and O. M. Johnson of Union Presbyterian church, Newburgh.

More than 450 persons are engaged in or are directing research in home economics in the United States, a study shows.

Ulster County Council Organizes

A formal organization meeting of the Ulster County Council was held last evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel, at which time officers and a board of directors was elected for the county-wide promotional group. Seated above are E. Frank Flanagan, treasurer; Nelson Snyder, second vice-president; C. C. DuMont, first vice-president; and Al Kurdt, secretary. Standing in the back are the board of directors. They are, left to right, Pratt Boice, Kenneth Wilson, Robert Snyder, Arthur Colligan, Arthur B. Ewig, Joseph E. Hasbrouck and Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk.

Local Death Record

Elmer Woodard, a well known resident of Haines Falls, died at his home there today. Mr. Woodard is survived by his wife, who was Flora Haines of this city, and a son, Cecil Woodard, of Haines Falls, and two grandchildren, Ruth and Leonard. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. E. Lowry, a former resident of this city, died in Ottawa, Canada, Sunday, April 14. Her daughter, Mrs. Frank Neal of Kingston, widow of the late Rev. Frank Neal, a former pastor of St. James Methodist church, this city, was with her during her illness of several months. Funeral services were held Wednesday, April 17, at Ottawa. Mrs. Lowry resided for six years with her son-in-law and daughter and had many friends in this city.

The funeral of Patrick J. Finerty was held this morning from his late residence, 29 Lawrence street, at 9 o'clock, and at St. Mary's church at 9:30 o'clock, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Benjamin C. Roth. The children's choir sang the responses to the Mass. Wednesday afternoon the Very Rev. Martin J. Drury, V.F.P.R., visited the home and said the prayers for the dead. In the evening the Rev. William H. Kennedy led in saying the Rosary. The funeral was large, a profusion of flowers and Mass cards was received. The casket bearers were John Heidcamp, Patrick Holmes, John Gallagher, John Reinhardt, Nicholas Radenberg and Peter Cooney. Burial was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery. Father Roth gave the final absolution as the body was laid to rest.

Fannie Lennon, 75, widow of George Lennon, died Wednesday morning in her home, 22 Center street, Walden, after a long illness. Born in Ulster county on January 18, 1865, a daughter of the late James and Rachael Ann Rockwell Smith, she had lived in Walden for five years and was a member of the First Reformed church. Survivors are five sons, Chester and Norman of Walden; Ellsworth of Minnesota; Roy of Seymour, Conn.; and Arthur of Summitville; three daughters, Mrs. Rose Castle of New York city; Mrs. Mary Ferguson and Mrs. Albert Dickinson, of Walden; a brother, Alfred Smith, of Napanoch, and three sisters, Mrs. Rose Lake of Goshen; Mrs. Charles Fischer of Chester; and Mrs. Michael Davenport of Napanoch. Funeral services on Friday at 2 p. m. in the Millsbaugh funeral home, 22 Bank street, will be conducted by the Rev. Richard P. Mallory. Burial will be in the Fantienehill cemetery, Ellenville.

School Groups to Meet

Members of the education boards of central and consolidated school districts in Dutchess county will meet tonight at the Arlington High School to discuss their common problems with regard to school costs, teachers and bus transportation. Marking the first time that so many school board members have met together, the assembly may consider the question of state aid. School boards expected to be represented are Wappingers Falls, Hyde Park, Red Hook, Pine Plains and the Highland Central district.

Improved Business On 4 Major Fronts

In addition to the fact that first quarter earnings reports now being issued continue to show favorable results, in many cases broad gains, over the initial quarter of last year, a report issued yesterday by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics notes signs of improved business on four major fronts that indicate that the industrial downturn will not continue into the summer. The four factors mentioned are: Signs of better demand for steel since last fall; increased buying of textiles; reviving interest in home building; an increase in industrial exports relative to production.

A number of steel companies are said to have given hints that the recent $4 a ton reduction on sheet steel may be withdrawn, suggesting to customers that they get in their specifications as rapidly as possible. Ford took advantage of the reduced price in a purchase of 20,000 tons of flat rolled steel and some other auto makers are believed to have closed some of the inquiries pending last week.

Estimates are that the movement of Lake Superior iron ore this year, just getting under way, will be at least as large as 1939 and may be as much as 10 per cent greater. One operator has announced a price 50 cents below last year's level and three other leading operators in Cleveland have stated that they will meet the new price.

Stocks as a whole showed little change in Wednesday's dealings on the Stock Exchange, averages being irregularly higher at the close. Industrials in the Dow Jones list were ahead 17 point for the day, as against a loss of 154 points up 134, closing at 148.35. Rails were shaded a trifle, closing at 30.59, a net loss of .05 point.

The market apparently had recovered from Tuesday's attack of nerves and leading issues showed a gain from the nervous selling of the day before, but the recovery was selective. Paper shares again featured the market. International Paper gained 1 1/2, to close at 19 1/2 on transactions totaling 56,100 shares and Union Bag and Paper was up 1 1/2, closing at 18 on volume of 29,300 shares. Both were among the 27 stocks that made new 1940 highs, while 32 issues made new lows for the year.

Cotton and wheat prices were lower yesterday and with commodity price movements indecisive the index was practically unchanged. Cotton futures, after showing gains of four to 12 points, reacted and closed seven lower to one higher on hedge selling, liquidation and profit-taking. Wheat closed fractionally off, 1/2 to 1/2 cent a bushel, at Chicago. Good inquiry for flour is said to have followed the spread of war to Scandinavia. Bookings at North-western flour mills are reported sharply increased, selling to 154 per cent of capacity, compared with 66 per cent the previous week.

Vice President Harrison, of the Bell Telephone System, told the monopoly committee the increase in number of employees had not kept pace with increased usage of phones because the A. T. & T. during the depression retained 60,000 unneeded employees.

Columbia Pictures reports increased profits for the six months ended December 31, total net being $215,582, after deduction of an extraordinary reserve of $100,000 and loss of $104,751 for the September quarter. Compares with net of $34,596 in the like 1938 period.

SEC granted Commonwealth & Southern extension to April 30 of time for filing answers to the commission's order instituting proceedings under the utility holding company act.

Stocks dropped sharply on the Amsterdam Bourse Wednesday over possibility of Holland becoming involved in the war and developments in the Indies.

Home Relief Ends

Alderman Chris Marion, chairman of the common council relief committee in Port Jervis, has announced that home relief will be discontinued there for an indefinite period, because "funds have been more than exhausted." About 60 families will be affected by the order. Alderman Marion does not state whether funds will be made available for that purpose some time in the future. What will become of families who do not find employment or who are not put on relief is uncertain.

Assistants Transferred

Some Opinions to What U. S. Will Do

Curious Cameraman Draws Variety of Replies on Topic

This week a curious Freeman cameraman queried some Ulster county folk on the topic of the moment, "Do you think the United States will be drawn into the current European war?"

And these are the answers:

Harry Christian, Napanoch, variety store proprietor: "Yes, I think we'll get into the war right after election—if Roosevelt runs again and gets back in the White House. The present situation reminds me of the days just before the last World War. I was working in a munitions plant in Richport, Conn., at the time. My mother was a good Republican, but she wrote to me and said to vote for Wilson because he would 'keep us out of war.' The following April—when the United States declared war on Germany—I wrote back home: 'Yes, he kept us out of war!' If F. D. R. stays in, I think Hitler will do everything he can to drag us into the fight. But I certainly hope we can avoid getting into the mess."

Louis Ildhe, Willow, musician: "No, I don't think we will be drawn into the war. I think the United States learned a good lesson the last time and will not go over to fight in Europe again. The average man is smart enough to know that it doesn't pay. Although Germany is my home country, I have no favorites in the present war. I was in the German Army and came to this country in 1922. I'm proud to say that I am an American citizen now, however, and of course I'd be willing to fight for this country if necessary. I sincerely hope that we can stay out of the present war, and I believe we can if we just say we won't go 'over there' again."

Harold Coons, 66 Hurley avenue, Kingston, tunnel worker: "Yes, sorry to say, I think we will be dragged in. I'd say it would be a year or more, anyway. My idea is that we will eventually have to get in to protect ourselves. I think England and France made a big mistake in letting Germany go as far as she did before intervening. I think selling supplies on a cash basis is a big help to American business. If we just sit tight, however, and try to be really neutral, we may be able to stay out of it. But if Canada is attacked, for example, we shouldn't waste any time getting in to protect our northern border."

Richard Cameron, Ellenville, service station operator: "Yes, definitely—we'll get in if Roosevelt is re-elected. Of course, if we think and act as a strict neutral, we may prevent repetition of our mistake in the World War. I think the people of the United States should band together as a whole and demand that our congressmen adhere to a definite neutrality program and not get us mixed up in the fight by being prejudiced. It is possible, however, that we may be drawn in to protect our financial interests in Europe and safeguard the lives of American citizens in warring nations. Personally, I think there is too much propaganda coming out of Europe today. Radio reports, especially, should be taken with a grain of salt. What we need is level-headed thinking and common 'horse sense.' War is not for civilized nations—it is a throw-back to the Stone Age."

Elwyn Dennis, Kysierike, truck driver: "No, the way things look at present, I don't think the United States will get into it. However, it will depend on what happens in Europe. I don't think we will be drawn in unless we have to. I believe America learned a good lesson during the World War and will profit by it. Of course we should stay neutral. As a matter of fact, that war is none of our business. As long as they keep it on the other side and don't bother us, we should consider it no affair of ours. Let's stay neutral and keep out of Europe's wars!"

Ernest Hinkler, Kerhonkson, mechanic: "I think we probably will. Probably a matter of time and it's hard to say how long we can stay out. If they keep on the way they're going now, we will be drawn in soon unless we're careful. I think America is doing a good job trying to be neutral to avoid making the same mistake we made during the last war. It's really pretty difficult to try to predict just what the future holds, but I know that most sensible citizens are hoping that we can steer clear of the war. We've got to be mighty careful not to be swayed by a lot of propaganda these days, but use common sense in trying to analyze the situation."

State Tightens Hold on Retailers

Albany, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—New York state tightened restrictions on retail liquor dealers today in an effort to prevent their domination by wholesalers.

A new statute, effective upon Governor Lehman's signature yesterday, requires cash payment by retailers for stock on delivery or by the 20th of the month following.

The law, main features of which already are operative under State Liquor Authority rules, was one of several receiving executive approval to increase 1940 statutes to 538. An authority spokesman said it was designed to relieve retailers of any compulsion to buy from particular manufacturers because of indebtedness.

The governor also approved a bill requiring that liquor shall not be sold for off-premises consumption in containers of less than 12 ounces capacity. Wine containers must hold at least six ounces. Another new law increases from $3,000 to $5,000 the aggregate remuneration payable under the workmen's compensation law to victims of silicosis and other dust diseases.

LITTLE SPITFIRE

By Jean Randall

YESTERDAY: Isabel rebukes Brenda for "carrying on" with Salts. Then Mac warns her to keep out of the Abernathy affair, and finally Abner, himself, angrily reproaches her.

Chapter 13

The Case Against Ned

"WHEN I heard Ned had skipped to California without so much as a goodbye to Alaine, I began to ask some questions," Abner went on. "It didn't take long to find out who had talked to him last. I can put two and two together and make four, even if I don't come from New York!"

He was out of the city limits by now and driving furiously. Brenda was interested to see with what skill he handled the small car despite his evident anger at her. She said soothingly:

"Ab, I wish you'd tell me why you're so set against Alaine's marrying Ned Barrow. If she loves him, I mean? What do you have against him?"

"Plenty."

"The fight you and he had several years ago?"

He took his eyes from the road long enough to send her a glance of scorn.

"So he told you about that, too, did he? Suppose you know when he cut his first tooth, and what his grade in chemistry was when he graduated? No, if you must know, it has nothing to do with that fight. I'd forgotten it myself. I have—he spoke with great dignity—'good and sufficient reasons' of my own why I oppose—why I always shall oppose my sister's marriage to Barrow."

She was slightly impressed in spite of his youthful appearance.

"Everybody else speaks well of him," she began. "Judge Harper—"

"That old goat! What does he know about Barrow—or Alaine and me, for that matter?" She said neatly: "I notice you go straight to him every time Alaine threatens to elope. You evidently value the old goat's help in an emergency."

He had the grace to redder. "Well, I do. He's a nice old goat, if you get what I mean; but he's old. Barrow and I are—contemporaries."

"You mean you know something about Ned Barrow that other people don't? Something that in your opinion rules him out as a husband for Alaine?"

"You can put it that way if you want to."

"What is it?" she asked simply.

"Never you mind what it is! You can take it from me—Alaine can take it from me—that he's not the right man for a sister of mine."

She smiled and shook her head. "I'm afraid you'll have to be more specific, Ab, my dear! In this day and age girls want to know the truth about matters touching so closely on their own lives."

He pressed his lips more firmly together. "I might tell you, but I'm not going to have Alaine know. She's not one of your kind of girls—modern, I mean," he added hastily. "I've had to be father and mother to her," he said solemnly. "And I've guarded and shielded her. I'm not going to have her know any more of the ugly facts of life than is strictly necessary."

His companion suppressed a smile. "Well, I've not been guarded and shielded, so you can safely confide in me. And it's much better to have me your ally than your opponent, you know. What is this dreadful thing you know about Ned Barrow?"

"He's supporting a woman!" he blurted. "A woman and a child—his child. I haven't the least doubt. Now, does that satisfy you that he isn't fit for Alaine?"

The Whole Story

"It would—if I believed it to be true," she commented thoughtfully. "But—I wonder if it is, Ab? I thought when I talked to him that I'd seldom seen a nicer or finer face than his. Isn't there any possibility you might be mistaken?"

He felt in his pocket for his handkerchief and blew his nose scornfully. It was almost as though he had produced a trumpet to proclaim with a blast his contempt for her girlish weakness.

"Ask Mac if you don't believe me," he said finally.

That silenced her. She remembered the older man's words of the evening before. He had called the situation a "mess" and warned her to keep out of it. Exactly the sort of thing a man—a decent man who liked and felt a friendly regard for a girl, a stranger—would say if the facts were as Ab had presented them.

"I think you had better tell me a little more about it," she informed him at last. "The—details, I mean."

"Very well! You might as well know the whole thing now. Mac and I were in a drugstore downtown one day last summer. It was one of those places where everything on earth is for sale—where there's even a lending library. Mac and I were standing behind the rack of books, out of sight of the rest of the store. We both noticed a girl with a child—kid about two, I guess. She stood watching the door. Mac found a biography he'd been wanting to read so he dipped into it, and we weren't talking when—when Barrow came in. The girl gave a little cry, and he came straight toward her. They talked a while and then she said: "Oh, Ned, have you brought the money?" And he just nodded—didn't say a word. She wiped her eyes with her handkerchief and said something about needing to buy clothes for the child. I nudged Mac and we both saw Barrow take out a handful of bills and give them to her. Then he patted the kid on the head and went out. But wait! He hurried on as though anticipating interruption. "That isn't all! She called the baby Edward! Now if you have any explanation of that besides the one Mac and I put on it, go to it!"

She looked grave. "How did he act? I mean—was his manner nervous—disturbed?"

"It was furtive," he pronounced triumphantly. "He kept glancing over his shoulder and when he'd given her the money he got himself out of that store in record time."

"You never spoke to him about it?" Brenda asked.

He said heartily: "Of course I didn't! Barrow's morals are none of my affair—not unless he tries to marry my sister."

"But—but surely the only right and just thing is to tell her—Alaine, I mean. If this thing is true—and I'm awfully afraid it is—then it will put an end forever to anything between her and Ned."

"If it isn't—"

"I tell you I'm not going to have her mixed up in such a mess," was the dogged reply. "Alaine's different from most girls of her age. I've seen to that. Why even her bathing suits—"

He fell into bitter silence.

Ridiculous Twins

BREND A remembered the low cut evening gown which had precipitated the last quarrel, and smiled to herself. These ridiculous twins! Alaine proclaiming her hour's seniority over Ab, Ab declaring he had to be father and mother to his sister! They were absurd, they were incredible; but they were a little sweet and pathetic, too!

"Well, Ab," she told him, "there seems only one thing to do. Since neither you nor Mac will ask Ned about this girl, I'll do it myself. Certainly if he is supporting another woman—the mother of his child—he mustn't marry Alaine."

"Do you think he'll admit it? He'll just lie to you; put you off with some story, and you'll believe in him stronger than ever."

Brenda stiffened. "You forget that my profession is founded on psychology. Ah! I think I can tell when I'm listening to the truth—or otherwise!"

"Maybe you can," he muttered. "Maybe you can; but I'm here to tell you I'm going to keep right on fighting Ned Barrow away from Alaine, no matter what he tells you!"

They finished the drive in comparative silence. The hills which had looked so blue from a distance were scrubby and uninteresting at close sight. Brenda returned to the house angry at herself for having offered Barrow her help, angry at him for what Ab was pleased to refer to as "his past life," most of all angry at Mac for knowing that she had interfered in the matter.

The next afternoon she consulted Hugh Salts about it. He was standing before his desk, his busy pencil doing fascinating things which ordinarily would have occupied all Brenda's attention. His mouth looked a little more bitter than usual, his eyes less mirthful. Evidently the world was not behaving itself as it should so far as the artist was concerned.

"So there it is," the girl finished. "I do think it would make a grand marriage for her—Judge Harper says those crazy twins put all their extra capital into the farm and that they spend most of their income on plants and fertilizer for it. But of course if this young Barrow is actually supporting another woman—"

"At least it's to his credit that he's supporting her!"

"Hugh, that's a very unethical view for you to take of the matter," she said severely. "Either she has a legal claim on him, or she hasn't. If she has then he should marry her. If she hasn't, then he shouldn't be blamed for what may simply be charity. And anyway, you're not being the least bit to me. What shall I do about it?"

Knows His Rights

Leavenworth, Kas., (AP)—Leavenworth has parking meters. A patrolman saw a farmer park his car and walk away without placing a nickel in the machine. "Nickel, please," said the officer. "Young fellow," replied the farmer, "I read what it says on that contraption. It says that I can park here for two hours for five cents. Well, I have only been here 10 minutes and when the two hours are up I will put in the nickel." And that's what he did.

I've had an ailment way down deep inside of my anatomy. And sought expert advice, to learn if it were this or that o'me. The first M. D. said: "Ah, my friend, you need a tonsillectomy!"

The next looked farther down, and so prescribed: An appendectomy.

The third, a famed psychiatrist, his brow in tense contraction: "Why, that somnambulistic trend demands your tooth's extraction."

But, last, my good old country "Doc" produced a book: "By crackie."

He smiled. "It's just a heart complaint." The book—his almanac.

Wife—George, before we were married, you were always giving me presents. Why don't you ever bring me anything now?

Husband—My dear, did you ever hear of a fisherman giving bait to a fish he had caught?

Another Hubby—Do you know, honey, if I had to do it all over again, who I'd marry?

Wife—No, who?

Hubby—You.

Wife—Oh, no you wouldn't.

An Irishman was seated in the office of one of the city officials, awaiting his turn. The attendant noticed he had a pipe in his mouth and politely informed him there was no smoking allowed there.

Irishman (leisurely)—I'm not smoking.

Attendant—But you have a pipe in your mouth.

Irishman—Sure, I have. And I've got shoes on my feet, but I'm not walking.

Peculiar Shower

Houston, Tex., (AP)—The latest in social affairs; the burglary shower. Burch Lee and his wife, Pat McNeely Lee, newspaper reporters, were victims of a prowler who stole $46 from their apartment. County officials, police officers and friends tossed a party at which the couple were showered with food and household supplies to make up the loss.

Find a Big One

Houston, Tex., (AP)—Three policemen, bearing five traffic tickets that had accumulated against an automobile owner, rapped on his door. A girl opened it. The unmistakable aroma of sour mash floated out, so the officers went in. They found a still, 50 gallons of mash and two gallons of whisky.

Trade Grows at Baltimore Port
Foreign Commerce Clearing Attains 20-Year Peak This Year.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Foreign trade clearing through the port of Baltimore has this year reached a 20-year peak, giving the Maryland metropolis in the first month of the year a foreign trade valued at more than $25,000,000.

Baltimore's earliest claim to international fame came through the development of the Baltimore clipper, long, low, fast sailing vessels of the schooner type, which sailed the seas at the beginning of the Nineteenth century," says the National Geographic society.

"Ships of this type were important factors in the sea battles of 1812, this naval experience further developing the clipper. They were reputed the fastest ships that could be devised by human ingenuity, and were extremely popular with privateers, smugglers and slavers even before 1800. They thrilled the mid-century by crossing the Atlantic in 13 days.

Received First Steamer.

"The port of Baltimore received the first steamship to steam and sail westward across the Atlantic. This was the City of Kingston, arriving in 1838. Clearing from her birthplace, London, she was sailing from Jamaica to New York when 'engine trouble' caused her to put in to the Baltimore shipyards for repair. She had made the trip to Jamaica in 20 days. In the German submarine, Deutschland, Baltimore received the first commercial undersea voyager to cross the Atlantic.

"At Baltimore was built the famous Constellation, first of the 36-inch gun frigates of the United States navy, launched there in 1797. Completely rebuilt several times, the Constellation is still afloat, tied up at Newport, R. I. Maryland provided 16 ships for use by the young U. S. navy in the War of 1812, in addition to nearly a hundred privateers. In Baltimore were made the iron plates for the famous Monitor.

"Today Baltimore is an active shipbuilding center, with much of the steel plate received from the city's own steel mill. This Baltimore mill employs about 20,000 men and is running full time in the making of steel plates, sheets, rails, wire and tin plate. The tin plate is a big item in foreign trade, going to the far corners of the earth. Ships bound for Japan seldom leave without picking up some of this tin.

"In addition, Baltimore has nine plants engaged in the fabrication of steel for structural work, and the port is nearer the steel centers of Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Cleveland, Gary and Chicago than any other major port.

Host to 4,000 Ships Annually.

"Baltimore has been the colonial center of population, and as the population center shifted, it moved steadily due west from Baltimore, leaving this Atlantic port the nearest to the greatest number of persons in the United States, the closest port to the interior of the country. It exports from 36 states and routes imports to 33. Baltimore's vast and varied industries are in themselves responsible for large imports and exports.

"Automobile shipments from Detroit frequently cross Lake Erie by boat to Buffalo, whence they are transported over highways to the port of Baltimore, which receives many other automobile shipments. From Baltimore the cars go to America's far-flung foreign market, or to cities along the southeastern coast, to ports on the Gulf of Mexico, and, through the Panama canal, to South America's Pacific ports.

"About 4,000 ocean ships enter the Baltimore harbor annually. The port last year had 37 steamship lines operating 62 overseas and coastwise services. In the overseas traffic, 38 lines had 46 services.

"The port of Baltimore is not on the ocean, nor is it, strictly speaking, on Chesapeake bay, but on the Patuxent river, 12 miles from its entrance into the bay, and 165 miles from the Virginia capes. The expansion of the Chesapeake and Delaware canal, making it navigable by ocean-going vessels, has made the port more accessible to many European ports.

"The harbor has a water front of 127 miles, with about 45 miles developed. The 29 railroad piers alone will accommodate 89 vessels drawing 34 feet of water. One terminal elevator will hold more than 4,000,000 bushels of grain.

Tank Towers May Carry Television Shows to U.S.

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD
Associated Press Radio Editor

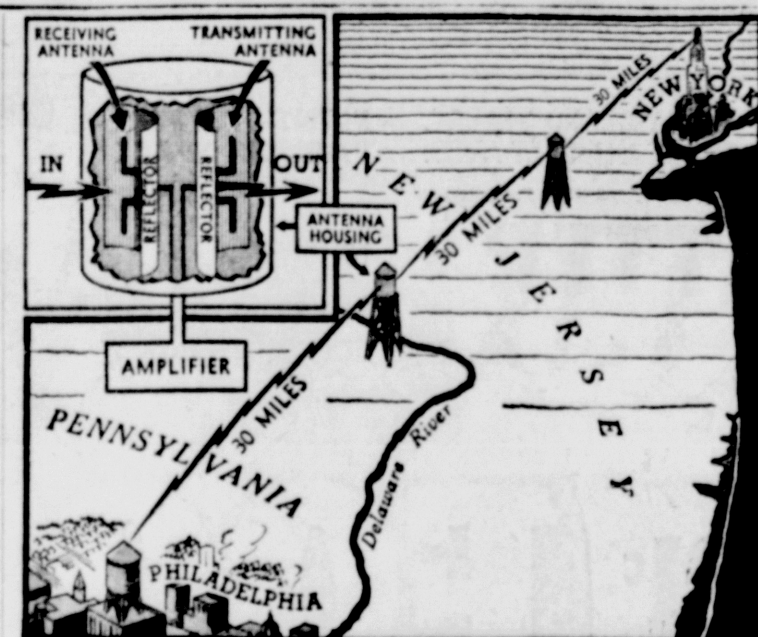

New York—It looks like a water tower. It might even be used for that purpose. Actually, it's a unit of an ultrashort-wave relay network to pass television signals from city to city just as sound radio is distributed by a wire system.

Ultimately, the water tank motif may be replaced by some other basic design. But in the first experimental television relay between New York city and Riverhead, Long Island, a distance of approximately 70 miles, two of the tanks were perched on high steel frames resembling windmill towers. This test demonstrated, the engineers said, that the system was practical.

6-10 of a Meter

Instead of holding water, the tanks housed the equipment comprising the automatic relay made up of special receiver and transmitters to pass along the signal considerably boosted in strength. Extremely short wavelengths are used, the shortest yet applied to television. They measure six-tenths of a meter, or just above 460 megacycles.

It is this same equipment developed by Radio Corporation of America engineers in a long period of testing which will be employed in setting up the world's first television relay link. It will connect Philadelphia to New York visually as the starter for what is hoped will be a coast-to-coast network.

Map of proposed circuit (New York to Philadelphia) of the world's first ultra-short-wave television network. Positions of relay stations are approximate.

After this hookup gets operating, probably by the end of the year, other cities are to be tied in with Washington as a next step. Already it is intended to televise the 1941 inauguration if technical developments permit.

Tanks 30 Miles Apart

The New York-Philadelphia circuit, as now laid out, would have two of the water-tank stations, placed about 30 miles apart to span the 90-mile gap. Besides the booster stations, the tanks also provide space for the receiving and transmitting antennas, so arranged with reflectors that they do not interfere with one another. Coupled with plans for the network start was the announcement of the National Broadcasting Company that it had applied for permission to erect television broadcast stations not only in Philadelphia, but in Washington and Chicago as well.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Saugerties, April 18 — The Methodist Boy Scout Troop No. 32 are making plans for their coming movie benefit to be held in the Orpheum Theatre on Wednesday, April 24. The proceeds will be used for the Scout troop.

John Overbagh, a student at Yale University, New Haven, Conn., spent the past few days with his stepfather, Fred Van Voorhis in Malden avenue.

Mrs. William Finger of Washington avenue who has been ill is recovering.

Thomas Siebert of New York city has purchased the John Stewart estate in West Camp. Mr. Siebert, it will be recalled, met with a serious accident in this village in 1938 when his motorcycle and a village truck collided and which ended with a settlement of and awarded verdict of $15,000 in the Supreme Court in the Bronx. Realtor John Sauer negotiated the sale of the property.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Marjorie H. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Smith of Westwood Hills, Calif., and Martin Schlottter, Jr., of Saugerties. The wedding is expected to take place in Saugerties in the early summer where the young couple will make their home. Miss Smith and Mr. Schlottter attended the Saugerties High School.

Hi Henry's orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for dancing at the annual Lions Club ball to be held at the 9-W Roller Rink Thursday evening, April 25. The committees are active to make this affair a real success in every way.

Edwin D. Axtell, Margaret Breithaupt, Elaine F. Schoonmaker, William D. Brinnier, William F. Finger, Audrey C. Kirsten and Joanne E. Axtell were received into membership of the Reformed Dutch Church of this place. The Rev. John Neander conducted the services which were largely attended.

The Rev. Ernest Bartlett has been appointed the new pastor of St. John's Methodist church in Malden and the Quarryville Methodist church, succeeding the Rev. Lester L. Haws.

Miss Katherine Wilbur, Miss Adelaide Babcock, Miss Aimee Babcock, Miss Anna Styles, Mrs. Alice Benjamin, Mrs. Anna Lasher and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Clements motored to New York city on Sunday.

The meeting of the Saugerties Monday Club was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Mason on Washington avenue. The afternoon topic was presented by Miss Agnes Harris, a member of the Saugerties High School faculty who spoke on how to select articles when making a purchase and for an example mentioned the various grades of materials and the qualities that are necessary for durability. Miss Harris made a fine talk and the members found much of interest and instructive in her explanations. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Theodore Goerck on Second street.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Julia Buono, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Buono of this village and Harry Cooper, also of this village, and son of Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper. The wedding will take place this summer.

The Saugerties Twilight League baseball season is being formed for the 1940 season and an organization wishing to enter are asked to inform President Frank Hughes or Herbert Whitaker. A meeting has been planned for in the near future and arrangements will be made by the officers as to the clubs wishing to be represented.

District Deputy Grand Master Arthur D. Lamb of this place paid his official visit to James M. Austin, Lodge, F. & A. M. in Greenville last Saturday evening. Local masons accompanying the officer were Harold Mills, J. W. Frankel, Harry Knaust, Richard Lazette, Francis Ruether, Stephen Barker, William Cotton, Harry Wells, George Smith, William Ruisamen, C. S. Hallenbeck, pointed out that although he believed it would be a matter of several years yet before this construction would actually take place, he thought it was necessary to get view points and opinions from both sides so that all concerned may derive some benefit and consideration. The local men asked Commissioner Schermerhorn to visit the village and go over the situation which he accepted and his visit is expected to be soon. Those represented the Saugerties C. of C. were President John Sauer, George DuBois, Thomas Buono, Gabe Vozdik, Chester Bonesteel, Al Amrod and Joseph M. Robinson. The commissioner advised the Chamber to give thoughtful consideration of the by-pass proposed by the state department and gave every indication that at any time matters of interest in this direction could be taken up with the department any future time.

Movies of Mexico At Rotary Club

Moving pictures of Mexico were presented by Vernon E. Shephard, advertising manager of the Central Hudson Corporation, before the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon Wednesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The pictures in color reflected ability upon Mr. Shephard as a cameraman both from the standpoint of theme and reproduction.

The historic, picturesque and occupational highlights of the country were projected together with the numerous other interesting features including a bull fight.

Guests present included Rotarians Harry J. Martin of Piqua, Ohio; H. E. Dexter of Poughkeepsie, Floyd Debarbour of Greenwich, Conn., and Arthur Hopkins of Albany. Other guests were E. M. Huben and Raymond Walter.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Williams of this town has returned after spending the winter months in Florida.

A delegation from the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce paid a visit to State Highway Commissioner H. O. Schermerhorn in Albany, Monday afternoon. The matter of by-passing Saugerties was the topic of conversation and the local delegates were in favor of an eastern by-pass although the maps and details of the state department called for a western outlet of traffic and that Saugerties would not be injured by the loss of business but on the other hand would benefit from this point. The local men argued that an eastern by-pass would be better for the reason that mountain traffic would still go through the village and the merchants would still maintain their business which these people have done here in years past. The commissioner

Kid McCoy Dies In Detroit Hotel

Detroit, April 18 (AP)—Norman Selby, the Kid McCoy of the ring, was found dead today in a downtown hotel and Deputy Coroner Lyle C. Ling said he had taken an overdose of sleeping medicine. McCoy claimed the world midweight title early in the century after he defeated Tommy Ryan. He had fought all over the world, including South Africa. The Kid was 66 years old. He was born in Moscow, Ind., and was married nine times. McCoy in recent years was employed by the service department of the Ford Motor Company. The body was found in a room at the Hotel Tuller.

The Kid made and lost a fortune in his fighting days. In the later years he came to grief and in 1924 he was sentenced to 20 years in San Quentin Prison for killing Mrs. Theresa Mors of Los Angeles. He was paroled, however, and obtained a job through Harry Bennett, Ford personnel chief. McCoy first met Bennett when the latter was a young boxer in the navy. McCoy was credited with origination of the so-called "corkscrew punch."

What No Mine Fields? Boston, April 18 (AP)—Before putting in at Boston today the master of Norwegian freighter Vigrid, 49 days out of Calcutta, wireless: "Any mine fields in Boston approach?" The harbor master assured him there weren't.

Miss Sue Weddell To Speak in City

Miss Sue Weddell, general secretary of the Women's Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church in America, will be the speaker at the annual spring luncheon of the Women's Missionary Union of the Classis of Ulster. The luncheon will be held in the First Dutch Church, Kingston, at 1 p. m. Wednesday, April 24. Reservations should be made with the secretaries of the local societies by Sunday, April 21. Miss Weddell fills a prominent place and is well known in all missionary circles. She was one of the American delegates to the World Missionary Conference at Madras.

Needs Mental Hygiene

Clinton, N. Y., April 18 (AP).—The world is mad because it lacks mental hygiene, in the opinion of David Seabery, New York city psychiatrist-author. In a Hamilton College lecture, Seabery advised his audience not to read the war news "so seriously that every shell hits you." The best thing to do for mental helpfulness, he added, is to "accept the world as it is and not fight facts." Seabery asserted Russia's dictator Stalin has a "compensatory inferiority" and termed Hitler a "paranoiac pure and simple."

Chapels May Be Kept

Troy, N. Y., April 18 (AP).—Clinton prison at Dannemora and Elmira Reformatory may keep both their chaplains and their Catholic chapels, following denial of a petition for their removal by Supreme Court Justice Pierce H. Russell. The refuted plea came from the New York League for Separation of Church and State, whose petitioner, Joseph Wheelless, New York city, contended construction of the chapels violated a constitutional provision against use of public funds for sectarian purposes.

Old Sailing Order Passeth

Bellingham, Wash. (AP).—America's last large commercial sailing vessel, the five-masted windjammer Vigilant, has passed from the maritime scene. The Vigilant, which carried lumber from Puget Sound to Hawaii, was sold recently to the Canadian Transport Company, Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C. She will be outfitted with auxiliary power and be used between Canadian ports and the South Seas. Built in 1918 at Hoquiam, Wash., the Vigilant was among the last of a long line of sailing ships that made America's windjammer fleet famous. Her best time between Hawaii and the mouth of Puget Sound was 18 days. She was capable of carrying 2,000,000 feet of lumber.

China's annual egg production is estimated at 12,000,000,000.

Hull Proclaims Policies in Indies

icans. The commerce department reports also indicated that Americans owned no governmental securities of either the Netherlands or the East Indies.

Netherlands Not To Ask Aid

The Hague, April 18 (AP)—The Netherlands government has informed Japan that it neither will ask any foreign government to protect the Netherlands East Indies in case the war should spread to Holland nor accept an offer of protection if it is made, it was announced today.

Meanwhile the Dutch received with guarded satisfaction the statement by United States Secretary of State Hull, in which he declared that "the interests of many countries" would be affected by any attempt to intervene in the affairs of the Indies.

There was no official comment on Hull's statement.

Katherina Schrott Dies in Vienna

Vienna, April 18 (AP)—Katherina Schrott, a friend of Emperor Franz Josef in the days when she was a celebrated beauty and later a friend of Vienna beggars, died last night.

She died at the age of 87 after an illness of several weeks which had kept her in her modest home near the Hapsburg Palace, Schonbrunn, whose spacious parks and salons she once knew so well.

Katherina Schrott became a legend. Gossipy Vienna never tired of discussing the extraordinary influence she had over the emperor or her friendship with Empress Elizabeth.

Bloomington, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Glen Cunningham, wife of the distance running star, remarked while stopping at Bloomington, "It's a little bit of a headache at times to be a runner's wife, but outside of that it's just about the same as being anyone's else's wife." One difference, she said, is that her husband eats seven steaks a week—to keep up his energy.

Spring's A Season To Emphasize Desserts

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
AP Feature Service Writer

Meal-planners who emphasize desserts this spring are heading in the right direction.

Children cherish dessert above all the rest of a meal. It's an idea that sticks somewhere in most minds even after they're grown up. Why not cater to it?

There are a few simple standards for desserts. Not that they be rich, extra fancy or intricate, but rather that they be seasonable and delicious. But, of course, nobody in the family will object if you serve them a nice frilly dessert once in a while.

Here's a spring-styled CARAMEL PIE that will set off a simple meal. And it won't ruin your budget, either, for eggs generally are two-thirds of a cup of granulated sugar and stirring pan. Heat slowly, and stirring constantly with a wooden spoon until a light brown syrup forms. This is the caramel. Then add 2-3 cup boiling water and boil gently until a thick syrup forms—about 4 minutes. Pour in 1½ cups milk, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1-3 cup nutmeats. Beat 3 egg yolks in a bowl, slowly add the hot syrup mixture and pour into a double boiler. Cook slowly until the mixture thickens slightly. Stir constantly, mix in 1½ tablespoons of gelatin which have soaked 5 minutes in 1-3 cup cold water. Cool the caramel and fold in 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten and a teaspoon of vanilla. Pour into a baked pie shell and chill until firm. Serve plain or covered with whipped cream.

Strawberry shortcake, an ever-welcome dessert, has been made a year-round treat with the advent of quick-frozen foods.

If you're having a baked dinner, slip a Cherry Roll in the oven. It makes a grand dessert. Make a rich biscuit dough—enough for four or five, pat it 1-3 of an inch thick and spread with 2 cups seeded red cherries, mixed with ½ cup sugar and ¼ teaspoon each of cinnamon, cloves and grated orange rind. Roll quickly and fit into a buttered loaf dish. Bake 35 minutes in a moderate oven and serve fresh with a regular thin sauce made from cherries and some cherry juice. Rhubarb, berries or other fruits may be used instead of cherries.

Here's a trick to turn leftovers into a dessert. Cut 2-inch cubes from cake—any kind, but angel food and sponge really are best. Scoop out the centers and stuff with cubed peaches mixed with diced marshmallows and a few nutmeats. Top and surround with a thick, chilled, vanilla flavored boiled custard.

Orange Shortcake is an old standby, but always popular when made with boiled icing. Make up large-sized biscuits. Split and fill them with sliced oranges. Replace the tops and cover with a thin boiled frosting. Let stand until it is set and then garnish with sliced oranges.

***
This FRUIT SOUFFLE will make a hit. It is gay looking and delicately flavored. Melt 4 tablespoons of butter and add 5 tablespoons flour. When blended pour in a cup of orange juice, ½ cup pineapple juice and 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Cook until thick and creamy and then add 4 egg yolks, ½ cup granulated sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Lightly fold in 4 egg whites, beaten. Pour into a buttered baking dish. Bake in a pan of hot water in a moderately slow oven—325 degrees for an hour. Serve warm, plain or topped with whipped cream and shredded almonds.

Arita Says Idea Same as Japan's

mentioned that made by Arita, thus putting on record the positions of both powers. Both depend on the East Indies for vital raw materials such as rubber and tin.

The Japanese Foreign Office Spokesman Yakichiro Suma, declared "ours was a spontaneous expression aimed at no specific nation and actuated only by recent developments in Europe."

It was asserted Arita intended his words to clarify Japan's position in advance of any European development which might come swiftly in modern warfare.

The foreign office at the same time attacked a bill pending in the Philippine Legislature which would limit Japanese immigration to 500 persons annually.

Suma declared that "for the past several years Japanese immigration to the Philippines has averaged 2,800 annually."

"Therefore if the proposed bill were passed Japan would receive a great blow. Although the bill aims at equal restriction of immigrants of all nationalities, Japan would be discriminated against unfairly."

used as fluid cream and the agent added, "generally brings the prices of milk in all classifications into better relationship with other dairy prices."

Clough said results of the referendum on the supplementary federal order were expected to be announced later today.

Curtains or draperies should be hung so that their edges and folds harmonize with those of the window and the main features of the room.

Does Not Affect The Nourishment

The effect of gases, smoke, and fumes from certain industries on nearby plant and animal life has long been a disputed question, and much study has been devoted to it.

Progress, too, has been made in removing poisonous materials from smelter smoke so that at present injury seldom occurs to plants and animals.

Scientists at Cornell University now report on the effect of sulfur dioxide on the nutritive value of alfalfa hay. It has been known that smoke containing enough of this chemical would lower the yield of forage crops, but it was not known whether the nourishing value of the crop was affected.

Not Affect Animals

The studies showed that the amount of sulphur was increased in the alfalfa, but that it had no appreciable effect on the digestibility of the hay or on the animals that ate it. The scientists fed some of the animals with hay grown in the smelter-fume area, and fed others hay grown outside the area. No significant differences were noted as a result of feeding the treated and untreated products.

Not only was alfalfa grown in the smelter-fume area, but greenhouse samples were also exposed to various concentrations of sulphur dioxide. Similar results were obtained with guinea pigs, rabbits, and lambs who were fed the treated (affected) and untreated alfalfa hay.

The scientists in charge of the work were Professor J. K. Loosli, B. L. Richards, Jr., Professor L. A. Maynard, and Professor L. M. Massey.

It was found that the animal took in more sulphur because there was more of it in the hay, but that most of the additional sulphates were excreted. None of the fumigations that caused chemical changes in the hay were found to affect the food value though they did increase the amount of sulphur in all cases.

Hungary Woos Russia To Stave Off Germany

with Moscow for a retirement of the armies of both countries six miles behind their respective frontiers.

The agreement was said to have been brought about through Adrienne Thierry, French ambassador to Rumania.

These is much less faith now—in Hungary's case especially—in Italy's influence to keep Germany out of the Balkans. In some quarters there is a growing suspicion that if Germany were to drive into southeastern Europe, Italy, rather than oppose it, would move into Dalmatia and possibly Croatia, sections of Yugoslavia, to "protect her interests" there.

Expulsion Measures

Meanwhile Rumania and Yugoslavia adopted measures for expulsion of thousands of recently-arrived Germans widely suspected of being forerunners of the German army, Hungarian officials were reported to be investigating the arrival of the Germans, 300 of whom were said to be agents of the German secret police who operated in Vienna and Prague before the German army entered Austria and Czechoslovakia.

The Dardanelles Straits, ever the key to politics in this part of the world, today lay within striking distance of warships of five nations which maneuvered under secret orders. A tenseness was in the air, and Balkan newspapers stressed dispatches reporting that "Italy's hour for decision is near."

The five nations whose ships were centered about the Dardanelles, gateway to the Black Sea, are Turkey, who holds the straits, Italy, France, Great Britain and Russia.

The Italian fleet was assembled in the nearby Aegean Sea for what Rome calls "customary spring maneuvers." The allies were reported to have taken "counter measures" in the Dardanelles region, while Turkey sent the battle cruiser Yavuz and other naval units into the Sea of Marmora near Gallipoli. Russia, reported to be maneuvering in the Black Sea, was said to have laid hundreds of mines in this sea off her main port of Odessa and the eastern oil port of Batum.

decisions by federal agencies. But growing opposition threatened to block its passage.

Three days of debate caused many members who had been undecided to announce that they would oppose it, primarily on the ground that it would set up a pattern of procedure which would not fit the operation of many agencies. Administration forces fought the measure.

Official reports indicate that at the end of March, there were in round numbers 65,000,000 pounds of turkeys in storage in the United States. This is double the amount ever held at this season of the year. Producer groups have earnestly requested chain stores, restaurants, hotels, grocers, and others to cooperate in the disposal of this large surplus of turkey meat.

The Vatican Library was begun by Pope Nicholas V about 1450.

Prior to 1820 no official records were kept of the number of immigrants arriving in the United States. It has been estimated, however, that from the close of the Revolutionary War up to 1820 the number of arrivals abroad was approximately 250,000. From 1820 to 1839, both inclusive, the number of immigrants landing upon our shores was 38,219,687.

Adam Ulrich of Wallkill Heads Ulster Council

A permanent Ulster County Council came into being Wednesday evening at the organization meeting of the board of directors at the Governor Clinton Hotel. C. C. DuMond, acting as temporary chairman, called the meeting to order and reported that the certificate of incorporation had been filed with the State Department. He also read the report made by the nominating committee consisting of Mayor C. J. Heiselman, Theodore Oxyholm, J. S. Simpson, James A. Dwyer and Roger H. Loughran. There being no further nominations, the following were unanimously elected as officers: Adam Ulrich of Wallkill, president; C. C. DuMond of Ulster Park, first vice-president; Nelson Snyder of Kingston, second vice-president; E. Frank Flanagan of Kingston, treasurer; Albert Kurdt of Kingston, secretary; and John H. Saxe of West Hurley, member of the executive committee.

It is planned to start a drive for members immediately to raise funds for council activities. The first activity to be supported is the Hudson Valley Apple Blossom Festival. The festival committee is an entirely separate organization and is soliciting funds from those who will benefit directly from the festival activities, but the newly formed organization will support the festival financially, depending upon the number of memberships secured. The council also agreed to set aside $50 to purchase a suitable award for the girl chosen as the Ulster County Apple Blossom Queen on May 1 at the Municipal Auditorium in Kingston.

The Ulster County Council, Inc., has been organized as a premanent non-profit membership corporation to aid in advancing and promoting the commercial, industrial, agricultural, civic, recreational, social, cultural and scenic status of Ulster county. It will advertise and publicize these features for the purpose of inviting residential, agricultural, travel and industrial development, as well as encouraging transients and vacationists to visit Ulster county.

The council will not duplicate or interfere with existing groups, but will cooperate with and coordinate county promotional activities. It will give financial assistance to groups sponsoring such activities as the Apple Blossom Festival, recreational and industrial activities.

The council is a membership corporation. The finances are to be raised through paid memberships. The annual dues for an active member are $5 and $1 for an associate member. Only active members can vote at the annual meeting which will take place on the first Thursday, after the first Monday in January.

Any person, association, corporation or other organization may become a member by paying the necessary fee. There is no limit to the number of memberships to be taken out by an applicant, but all memberships must be assigned to the name of an individual who will represent the member in voting at meetings. Any organization may change the name of the person to whom any membership is assigned by writing to the secretary.

The control of the council is vested in a board of directors of 21 members; seven to be elected each year for a term of three years. Each township is limited to one director, but an incorporated village located within a township is also entitled to not more than one director. The city of Kingston is limited to seven directors.

The directors for three years are: C. C. DuMond, Ulster Park; Rouben A. Benson, Ellenville; Jay LeFevre, New Paltz; Joseph O'Connor, Bloomington; John H. Saxe, West Hurley; John J. Schwenk and Morris Samter of Kingston.

The directors for two years are: Pratt Boice of Lake Katrine; Robert Snyder, Saugerties; Adam Ulrich, Wallkill; Francis Kaley, Milton; Joseph E. Hasbrouck, Modena; Nelson Snyder and E. Frank Flanagan of Kingston.

The directors for one year are: W. H. Cruickshank, Big Indian; Harry Snyder, Cottkill; Kenneth Wilson, Woodstock; John F. Wadlin, Highland; Arthur B. Ewig, A. L. Colligan and Howard A. Lewis of Kingston.

The directors elect the officers and an executive committee consisting of the president, first vice-president, secretary, treasurer and one director at large, shall act between meeting of the board of directors.

In addition to promoting Ulster county, the council will support and co-operate with the West of the Hudson Association and will name the Ulster county representatives to its board of directors.

Standing committees of the council will include: Industrial, agriculture, transportation, recreation, law and publicity. Special committees will be appointed whenever needed.

The headquarters of the Ulster County Council, Inc., will be at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston, with post office box for a mail address.

War Complicates Ice Patrol's Task

Will Get Little Word From Ships About Icebergs.

WASHINGTON.—The international ice patrol maintained by the navy and coast guard to safeguard North Atlantic shipping from icebergs is facing this spring and summer its most difficult problem since the service was started.

For the last several years the naval hydrographic office has received, through the co-operation of the Canadian government and by direct radio communications from liners and other merchantmen in the transatlantic trade, prompt information of all ice hazards observed by these vessels. This year virtually all this information will be unavailable because of the war, and the patrol will have to work alone.

The hydrographic office, in an effort to get at least part of this information, is seeking to arrange for these ships to report on reaching their ports of destination.

"It is realized," states a bulletin of the hydrographic office, "that this year, due to the hostilities in Europe, many vessels are maintaining radio silence, and that information from this source will be extremely meager. In the interest of safety and shipping in general, the hydrographic office would appreciate receiving reports of ice sighted by such ships immediately upon their arrival in port."

In previous years vessels of the ice patrol have been based at Halifax, but this year Halifax is unavailable for such service, so the vessels will use Boston and New York as bases, greatly increasing the distance between bases and the ice fields.

The radio "silence" involves all British and French vessels as well as many neutral ones, the latter for the most part of Scandinavian register.

Iroquois Indian Tribes Used Communistic Plan

The American Indian didn't have the name for it, but he was a Communist just the same, it seems.

Moreover, even under administration of the federal government, he still is to a certain extent.

Dr. Philip H. Riegel of Buffalo, N. Y., authority on Indian history and customs, reveals that he has found ample evidence that communism thrived on this continent long before the Russians thought of Bolshevism. According to Dr. Riegel, the Iroquois tribes were operating their communistic form of government successfully in what is now New York state when whites reached these shores.

"The Indians' lands were held in common," he said in a college discussion. "When lands were sold to whites each Indian received his share of the return."

This principle of common ownership continues today, with the federal government distributing equally among tribe members the profits resulting from lease of reservation lands and operation of mines located on them.

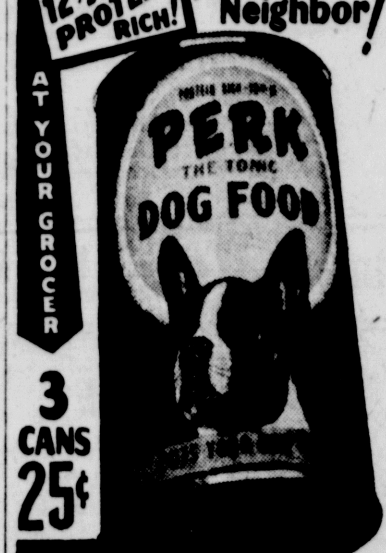

Describing other communistic aspects of the Iroquois tribal government, Dr. Riegel said:

"Individual ownership was limited entirely to clothing, hunting implements and ornaments. Aristocracy was scrupulously avoided. A chief had no benefits above other members of a tribe. Material awards did not attend his position. He attained his place merely by merit."

"There was a head to this communistic government. He had a cabinet of five members and a legislative. Although it was the woman's lot to do menial labor, she nevertheless had a recognized place in the councils of the people. Her opinions were sought and respected."

The Iroquois' communism differed from Russia's Bolshevism in that the Indian worshiped a deity, believed in life after death and prayer, and practiced the confessional as part of his religion.

Former Ellenville Girl to Wed

New York, April 17 (Special).—Miss Sylvia Rosenstein, a former resident of Ellenville, now of 808 West End avenue, New York, and Murray J. Fournberg, of 305 East 54th street, Brooklyn, procured a license to marry here today in the Municipal Building. The couple stated they would be married on April 21 in the Cafe Loyale here. The prospective bride was born in Ellenville, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Rosenstein. Mr. Fournberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fournberg, was born in Brooklyn.

Four Join Business Girls

Four new members were accepted into the Business Girls' Club at the regular weekly meeting last evening. The new members are the Misses Ruth Koonz, Helen Barten, Elise Fielder, and Irene Van Hovenberg. Following the supper the members were addressed by Louis R. Netter, managing editor of The Freeman, who spoke on "Propaganda," after which an informal discussion was held on the subjects of propaganda and news. Next week the club will hold a supper bridge.

Padwa and Spross To Be Presented by Musical Society

Invitations have been issued for a musical to be given by the Musical Society of Kingston on Friday, April 26, at the Governor Clinton Hotel when Vladimir Padwa will be presented as guest pianist and Charles Gilbert Spross, as composer and guest accompanist.

Mr. Padwa is a native of Estonia. He began his musical studies in the Imperial Conservatory in Russia, studied in Berlin and graduated from the Leipzig Conservatory. He was a pupil in composition of Busoni and a piano pupil of Zadora.

Since 1934 Mr. Padwa has been associated with the great violin virtuoso, Mischa Elman, having toured with him through South America, China, Japan, North Africa and the North American continent, acting as Mr. Elman's accompanist.

Press comments from all parts of the world have acclaimed Mr. Padwa as "a virtuoso of remarkable personality," "an exceedingly fine artist" and "a pianist of first rate skill and keen temperament."

When he is not touring, Mr. Padwa has a studio in New York city. He also spends some of his time in the village of Woodstock where he has a summer home and plays in the summer concert series.

Dr. Spross needs no introduction to the music audiences of Kingston. It will be remembered that two years ago he presented his beautiful cantata, "Evangeline," based on the famous poem of Longfellow. Members of the Musical Society sang the leading parts and a chorus interpreted the story. Again it is with great pleasure that a Kingston audience looks forward to hearing some of Dr. Spross' compositions, with the composer accompanying and directing the numbers.

A group of 20 singers from the Musical Society will sing two groups of songs, one of which will be the "Arabian Song Cycle." The three other songs are "Come Down Laughing Streamlet," "At Eventide" and "There's a Lark in My Heart." The beautiful harmonies and lilting airs of these songs will be enjoyed by all who hear the music of Spross.

The Musical Society and its members feel distinctly honored in being able to present these two fine musicians to the friends of the society.

Local Girl Graduates
New York, April 17 (Special).—Miss Irene Delaney of Saugerties and Miss Olive Thompson of Windham will be graduated from St. Luke's Hospital Nurses Training School at exercises to be held on April 23 at the school. The class is composed of 39 young women.

Dr. Earl M. Bond of the Institute of the Pennsylvania Hospital will deliver the address to the graduates. Lincoln Cromwell, president of the hospital, will confer diplomas and certificates after the presentation of candidates by Miss Helen Olan, director of nursing. Mr. Cromwell will preside. Following the exercises a reception and dance will be held in the Eli White Auditorium.

Baccalaureate services will be held in the hospital chapel on Sunday evening. The graduates and student nurses will participate in the traditional processional from the nurses' home to the chapel. The Rev. John W. Suter, rector of Epiphany Episcopal Church, will preach the sermon.

Social Party
The Ladies' Auxiliary of Union Hose will hold a social party this evening at the engine house on Union street, beginning at 8:15 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

Personal Notes
Mrs. Sara Deyo and Mrs. Bowman LeFevre, who have been spending the winter at The Huntington, have returned to their home in New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sax of West Hurley left this morning for Indianapolis, Ind., where they will visit their son, Ira N. Sax, who

SOFTLY YOKED JACKET-DRESS

MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN 9321

Youthful verve has been combined with carefully slimming lines in this Marian Martin style, Pattern 9321. Topped by its smart jacket that's in the new longer length, it makes a costume to live in through spring. Then, without the jacket, you've a becoming, all-summer-long dress. The panelled lines are very figure-flattering, but the crowning glory is that softly draped yoke which ties in to a graceful bow at the neck. Wouldn't it show off effectively in gay contrast especially with the rest of the dress in cool, sheer print? Add revers to the jacket, if you like; the buttoning is optional.

Pattern 9321 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36, dress, requires 3½ yards 39 inch fabric, and ¾ yard of contrast.

Ill-at-Ease at Dances? Perfect Steps at Home

Make Dancing a Joy--Not a Task

A pair of poor dancers--telling the world by their tense expressions that they're at a loss in this smart Westchester. She's unsure of her steps, he's afraid they'll crash into the next pair.

It's easy to learn popular steps, the fine points of leading and following. In home lessons you can gain the skill and assurance that make you a smiling, light-footed dancer.

Other Westchester variations are as simple. And no danger of dance-floor collisions when the man gives the lead firmly with his right arm -- when the girl times her steps an instant after his.

Be an expert dancer. Our 32-page booklet gives diagrams and instructions for the fox-trot, Westchester, waltz, rumba, tango, Conga, Samba and shag--shows how to do the Castle Waltz, Walk and Maxine. Has basic steps and variations; tips on leading, following.

Send 10c in coin for your copy of HOW TO DO THE NEWEST DANCE STEPS AND VARIATIONS to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Not a Public Dance, Says School Trustee Today

It is announced that the party to be held at the West Hurley school house Friday night, April 19, will not be a "public dance," but an "Old Fashioned Party," sponsored by the Co-operative School Club, for club members and their friends. Mrs. William Emig, president of the club, states that proceeds will be used in taking the school children to the World's Fair.

Among the oddest of Grange names in the country may be mentioned "Blow Me Down," No. 234, located in the town of Plainfield, New Hampshire. In spite of its name, nothing has seemed able to blow it down, for it has been steadily prosperous for many years and has recently become the possessor of an up-to-date, fully equipped hall, made possible by the contribution in labor and materials of nearly everything needed for the construction task.

Of the 4,231 families in Helena, Mont., only 27 have five or more children, according to a report by the WPA housing survey. Approximately 66 per cent or 2,795 families, have no children; 741 families have one child; 471 families have two children and 197 families have three or four children.

Burglars Fail To Crack Safe In Accord Store

Some time during the night the Accord Farmers' Co-operative feed store along the O. & W. Railroad tracks at Accord was broken into and the burglars made a vain attempt to crack the safe in the company office. It is understood that at times the company has a considerable amount of money in the safe.

Entrance to the store was discovered this morning about 7 o'clock when Nelson Ter Bush, miller, and Friend Wilkowi, bookkeeper, went to the place to open the place for the day.

The burglars made entrance to the office by breaking a glass in the window and then unlocking the window. After gaining entrance an effort was made to break open the large cabinet safe in the office.

A sledge hammer which had been on the premises was used and from the appearance of the safe it was roughly treated but withstood the attack. The combination was knocked off, the handles of the door broken and bent and the burglar then attempted to pry open the safe with various tools after pounding the safe door along the ends.

The manner of the attack indicated that the job had apparently not been attempted by a professional safe cracker.

An investigation was being made by Deputy Sheriffs Clayton Vredenburg and Arthur Brown.

royal navy off the Norwegian coast and the allied expeditionary force to Norway than by diplomatic language.

Ships Not Outmanned

Naval observers contended that the British navy's 80-minute shelling of Strangvanger airdrome yesterday was further evidence that war ships are not outmanned by the bombing plane.

That airdrome on Norway's western coast has been occupied by the Germans since the day Norway was invaded. German planes bombed the warships as they returned to their base, but the admiral said in a communique that only one cruiser was hit and that it was able to continue to its base.

Cross was blunt in what he said about Italy.

"We have no quarrel with Italy," he said. "We have every wish to be friends. But we are plain-dealing and plain-speaking people and we should like to know where we stand with Italy."

Meanwhile reports from the English southeast coast indicated that the German air force had renewed raids on shipping in the Downs. British contraband control base.

Inhabitants of an unnamed southeast coast town, awakened by heavy firing, rushed to the shore. They reported hearing dull explosions as of bombs, and also machine-gun fire. The firing stopped after an hour.

The more limited the purse, the more difficult it is to provide all the nourishment the body needs. Cornell bulletin E-236 "Lowest Food for Health" may be helpful, and single copies, free to New York state residents, may be had from the Office of Publication, Roberts Hall, Ithaca, N. Y.

Annual Y. M. C. A. Drive Is Opened

The annual Y. M. C. A. drive was officially opened last evening with a dinner in the new gymnasium. Seated at the speakers table, left to right, are: James F. Osterhout, only living charter member of the Kingston "Y"; Mrs. Julian Gifford, division leader; Mayor C. J. Heiselman, B. C. Van Ingen, division leader; the Rev. F. B. Seeley, speaker; and the Rev. William J. McVey. Standing in the same order are Clyde Wonderly, Co-General Chairman of the drive; Robert Sisson, Y secretary; Clarence Dumm, drive co-chairman; Howard St. John and Lucius Doty, division leaders and Harry Martin, of the National Y. M. C. A. Council.

Wurts Street Baptist Men's Club Held Dinner

The first annual Wurts Street Baptist Men's Club dinner was held in the church parlors on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, with the following men present: The Rev. John A. Wright, F. Voight, Lewis Meyers, Walter Smith, Herman LaLour, Art Lacey, Dewey Bundy, Walter Kirchofer, James G. Legg, Eugene Vogel, Leo Everett, Captain R. Salpaugh, Albert May, George Arnold, Henry Neer, Charles Neebe, Lewis Voight, William Reardon, Walter Inge, Ralph Palen, Jerry Conrad, Charles R. Entrott, Miles Fisk, Thomas Nesle, Willis DuBois, W. W. Shultz, Sr., Dwight McEntee, Lee Powell, George Parsells, Junior Brodhead, Floyd Powell, Evan E. Fisk, Charles C. Brodhead.

Meeting was opened by prayer by the Rev. Miles Fisk. Dinner was served under the auspices of the choir, Mrs. George Parsells in charge. Following the dinner, a short business session was held in which Lewis Meyers was re-elected president of the club, James C. Legg, vice president, Leo Powell, recording secretary, F. Voight, treasurer. These men were elected by the nominating committee, consisting of Floyd Powell, George Parsells, the Rev. John A. Wright. Their election was unanimous. The Rev. R. H. Edwards, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ossining, N. Y., gave an address upon the subject "Gambling Saints."

Mr. Edwards gave a forceful address which was enjoyed by all. The Men's Club voted to attend the church service on Sunday, April 21. Herman LaTour, choir director of the church, led the men in group singing. Dart baseball was enjoyed at the close of the banquet. The men hope that many occasions like this one will be held through the coming year.

Thieves Grab Funds

Little Falls, N. J., April 18 (AP)—Three men, one armed with a sub-machine gun, seized the Erie Railroad stationmaster today, used his as a shield and robbed two postal employees of funds being transferred from a train to a post-al truck. Passaic County Prosecutor Arthur C. Dunn said the bandits' loot totaled about $15,000. Some of the money was consigned to the Little Falls National Bank. A passenger train from Jersey City had stopped momentarily at the lonely station on the edge of the town's residential district to drop off the mail. The robbery occurred while the train was pulling out.

School Move Defeated

By a margin of almost two to one, voters of the Central School District in Pine Bush, Orange county, defeated Tuesday the education board's proposal for a $243,000 building bond issue. The vote was 480 against the issue with 253 votes in favor of it. The poll was taken in the high school in the village. It climaxed a long and bitter struggle between the education board and the opposition group, headed by Raymond W. Hill of the Pine Bush Taxpayers' Association.

Amateur Show Group to Meet

A meeting of the committee planning for the American Legion amateur show, run in conjunction with the Hudson Valley Blossom Festival, will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Memorial Building.

Important business is to be transacted and Stanley Dempsey, general chairman, requests the presence of all the committeemen.

Says Deutschland Aground

Stockholm, April 18 (AP)—A Norwegian reaching Sweden from Trondheim today reported without other confirmation the German pocket battleship Deutschland was ashore in Oslenfjord northeast of Trondheim. The Deutschland, 10,000-ton sistership of the scuttled Admiral Graf Spee, was renamed Lutzow last October by the Germans who said the name Deutschland was to be given another warship.

Beggar's Appreciation

Detroit, April 18 (AP)—A woman who befriended a beggar injured in an alley fight six years ago today was notified he had died and left her $11,000. The woman is Mrs. Aubert Thrasher, a 44-year-old practical nurse with eight children. She was astonished by the news and had difficulty recalling the incident. "She did me a good turn years ago," wrote Nathan Kanover, the beggar, in a crude printed style.

Martian Life 'Possible' According to Scientist

Studied observations by Dr. Theodore Dunham Jr., Mt. Wilson, Calif., astronomer, lend credence to one of astronomy's most intriguing possibilities—that some form of life exists on the planet Mars.

"Our present knowledge of the planet does not justify claims that Mars is devoid of living creatures," Dr. Dunham emphasizes.

The noted astronomer used the presence of Mars' mysterious white polar caps to substantiate his contention that it is possible some sort of life could exist on the earth-like planet.

"We are almost certain," he said, "that these white polar caps are composed of ice and snow formed by water vapor. The ozone temperature on the planet is too high to permit carbon dioxide to remain in an icy state for any great length of time."

"Thus, despite spectroscopic evidence showing little or no oxygen on Mars today, it is more likely that it has existed at some previous time and has combined with metallic compounds on the planet to form oxides. It is unwise to contend that there is not enough life-supporting atmosphere to maintain some state of life on Mars."

Dr. Dunham believes that by a lengthy process of evolution life in some form may have gradually adapted itself to the rigorous conditions which are known to exist on the distant planet.

The variations in size of the polar caps are attributed to climatic changes by the astronomer.

"The polar caps are striking things," Dr. Dunham said. "They diminish in size in the spring and reform in the fall. It seems logical that they are composed of ice which melts in warm weather and reforms in the cold."

"Perhaps when we have the new Hale telescope on Palomar mountain placed at our disposal, we will be able to throw more light on Mars, its canals and the possibility of life existing on the planet," he said. "Until then, however, we cannot justifiably conclude that the planet is uninhabited."

'Real' Cheddar Cheese

Originated in England

The natives of the little Somerset village of Cheddar, England, are very jealous of their reputation of making what they call the "real" Cheddar. They complain bitterly that the cheesemakers of the United States, Australia, and Canada have copied their product and that each of these countries now claim it as their own although it was produced in Somerset 800 years ago and was patronized by King John when on his hunting expeditions. They also claim that "real" Cheddar can only be produced in that district owing to "the sweet limestone pastures, their finer grasses and clovers, and springs of pure water."

Yet strange to say, the first prizes for Cheddar at the London and other dairy shows generally find their way north of the Tweed, hundreds of miles away from Cheddar. However, the Cheddar people have one consolation, they can still boast that in the neighboring (village or) city of Wells at the United Dairies cheese factory is situated the largest cheese-maturing chamber in the world, which has a capacity of 100,000 cheeses, and there it is a common sight to see as many as 70,000 to 80,000 cheeses at one time.

The population of China in the year 1381 was about 60,000,000.

April, May and June Arrive While Mother's Busy Moving

Aliquippa, Pa., April 17 (AP)—The amazed father of triplet girls born prematurely without medical aid, said today he'd probably keep the names nurses had given the babies—April, May and June.

"Oh, my God," cried John Reed, part-time steel worker, upon learning his 25-year-old wife had given birth to triplets in the midst of moving into a new two-room cottage.

The babies, weighing eight pounds, seven and a half ounces, were getting along nicely in a hospital incubator where they were taken in a big roasting pan. The mother, also doing well, commented "I'm just a little tired." She has two other children.

Not expecting a child for six weeks, Mrs. Reed became ill just after reaching her new home. The truck had unloaded furniture but beds hadn't been set up and there was no heat, lights or clothes for the babies.

The emergency came on one of the only two nights a week that Reed worked. His wife's 22-year-old brother, Paul Malke, dashed a mile away to bring Mrs. Lulu Nye, 43-year-old mother of four children.

She turned the kitchen into a delivery room by the light of a flickering oil lamp; all three babies arrived within 15 minutes. A doctor reached the scene sometime later.

To Repeat Minstrel

The Craftsman's Club of Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A. M., will repeat their minstrel show in the assembly rooms of Trinity Lutheran Church, corner Spring and Hone streets, Wednesday evening, April 24, at 8:15 o'clock, under the auspices of Trinity Lutheran Men's Club. This minstrel show was broadcast over Station WKNY on Friday evening, March 29. The first part of the program will feature several well-known local soloists and several new specialty numbers have been secured for the second portion of the program. Music for the show will be furnished by Bill Smith and his orchestra.

City League Fails to Draw Enough Teams for Season

Kingston's baseball fans will have to look to Charlie Husta's recreation team for their diamond entertainment this summer.

Last night's meeting of the City Baseball League to formulate plans for the twilight loop brought out only three teams—Knights of Columbus, Jones Dairy and Independents.

Two previous sessions were held and at each one the only business that transpired was discussion concerning invitations for three other teams besides those mentioned to join the circuit.

But, over a period of three weeks the league could not gather enough clubs to make a six-team organization and last night was set as the deadline concerning the league for the 1940 season.

So there will be no City Baseball League this summer and the fans who spent their evenings at the Athletic Field for the past several years must look elsewhere for entertainment.

Officials of the evening circuit are of the opinion that a layoff may stimulate interest in the league for the future and bring out a new crop of teams to compete in 1941.

With the league dormant, the recreation team should enjoy good patronage, is the opinion of those in charge, unless some of the other local teams decide to book Sunday games on the fields hereabouts.

Syracuse Oarsmen Have First Race April 27th

Syracuse, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—Coach Ned Ten Eyck's Syracuse University oarsmen face their first race April 27 at Cambridge, Mass., with only nine days of practice.

Six shells manned by varsity and yearling crew aspirants took to the water yesterday after being delayed later than ever before by high water, late snowstorms and cold weather.

The crewmen will meet Harvard, M. I. T., and Boston University in their first test.

She's just a sophomore in high school at Portland, Ore., only 15 years old, but Brenda Helser is national indoor 220-yard free style champion. Less than four years ago she was just paddling around public pools. Then she began to take swimming seriously and ended up under the tutelage of Jack Cody, veteran developer of champions. Two years later she won her first national championship, a junior national title in the 500 yard free style. She can go with the best of 'em at every distance from 100 meters to 800 meters. Friends call her "Bunny."

Twenty-One Athletes Attend Track Meeting on Wednesday

At last night's meeting for organization of a permanent track team, sponsored by the Kingston Department of Recreation, brought out 21 athletes and enthusiasts of the sport to the city hall where plans were discussed for this summer.

One of the orders of business was nomination of a committee to select men for the team, and those named were Ken Douglas, Don Hyatt, Jesse Shultis, Bert Streeter and Mike Weiner.

Answering last night's call were Mike Weiner, Gene Wren, Culver TenBroeck, Jess Shultis and Joe Beirach, who competed in last year's meet; John Bailey, Dick Curran, Ken Douglas, Nicholas Hertica, Don Hyatt, Babe Larkin,

Heavier Scoring Expected In Bowling Congress Today

Bowling Star Begins Tenpin Show and Lessons

Andy Varipapa, bowling's famous trick shot artist, opened a two-day stand at the Central Recreation alleys today at noon.

Varipapa was occupied throughout this afternoon instructing several bowlers on the finer points of the game. He is scheduled to roll a series of singles against the city's leading sharpshooters tonight at 8:30.

The Brooklyn ace, who has rolled 48 perfect scores of 300 during a brilliant career, will be at the Central Recreation alleys for instruction periods Saturday afternoon and winds up his performance with another exhibition Saturday night.

Following each exhibition Varipapa will demonstrate his repertoire of amazing trick shots. These trick shot periods during which he literally makes the mineralite talk have made Varipapa nationally famous, and won for him the featured role in several bowling shorts by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Varipapa's trick shots are too numerous to mention but all are original and among the most amazing ever seen on the polished lanes.

There will be an admission charge and reserved seats for both exhibitions. Reservations for Saturday's block can be made to-night at the alleys, or by calling 1326.

Skating Champ

Cleveland, April 18 (AP)—Twelve-year-old Louis Goeller, of New York, won the junior girls' figure skating title today in the national amateur roller skating championships. Walter Bickmeyer, 10, of Mineola, Long Island, took the junior boys' figure skating event last night.

Yanks Might Have Lost Game If Keller Hadn't Come to Life

(By The Associated Press)

Until Joe DiMaggio gets back into the lineup, the New York Yankees are sure to see a more or less constant stream of southpaw pitching.

Connie Mack tried a righthander, Nelson Potter, yesterday in the only game of the day in the major leagues, and the McCarthythym went right to work for a 4-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

But Mr. Mack knows the formula as well as he knows every other rule of thumb in baseball. He gambled with Lefty Lovill (Chubby) Dean to win the opener the day before and he has announced that young Herman Besse, a rookie southpaw from Memphis, will be thrown into the lions' den today.

With DiMaggio in sick bay, the Yankees have five lefthanded batters in the lineup, four of them coming to the plate in succession.

Besides DiMaggio, the only righthanded hitting outfielder on the Yankee squad is Jake Powell and he is in a hospital because of a brain concussion. DiMaggio hoped to get back into harness tomorrow when the Yanks make their first stand against the Senators, but the Yankees themselves were skeptical.

There is no question that his power is sorely missed. In the opener which New York lost in ten innings the Yanks collected only six hits. And yesterday they won with a somewhat skimpy seven.

In fact the Yanks might have been edged out again in spite of Monte Pearson's four-hit pitching, if Charley Keller hadn't expressed his authority. He walked in the fourth inning and scored New York's first run, homered for the second and drove in the fourth with a single.

American Stars Are Dart Champs

A three-game "all-star" series of dartball was played Wednesday evening at St. James Church, bringing the Federation dartball activities to a close for the season. The American all-stars won with scores of 8 to 5, 2 to 9 and 8 to 5.

In the first game the American League players gathered eight runs from 21 hits while the National League players took five runs and 15 hits. In the second game American players made 19 hits and scored two runs while the National League players made 23 hits and nine runs. In the last game the American sluggers came back with 21 hits and eight runs while the National League made 15 hits for five runs.

American all-star players were Slover, Boice, Morehouse, Williams, Parslow, DuFon, Dougherty and Hickey, while the National Leaguers were Newkirk, Stephens, S. Moore, Gray, Ellsworth, Ferguson, Bunce, Christiana, Boss, Wells and Minard.

Brown, Pawson, Heinicke Picked To Win Marathon

Boston, April 18 (AP)—If marathon running was not the most formal of sports competitions, one would regard such illustrious "grinders" as Leslie Pawson and Ellison (Tarzan) Brown, both of Rhode Island, as being over-cocky.

But the history of the 43 previous A. A. marathons indicates they are speaking sagely when they predict that if one of them doesn't win tomorrow's 26 miles, 385 yards Hopkinton-Boston race, Don Heinicke of Baltimore will.

Both Pawson and Brown are two-time winners and the latter set the course record of 2:28:51 4-5 last year when Heinicke finished second, about two and a half minutes later. Former winners, most of the experts agree with the Rhode Island stars. They do not expect that 32-year-old Clarence Demar, a seven-time winner, the equally old Bill Kennedy of East Portchester, N. Y., who led the pack back in 1917; or even the 1935 victor, Johnny Kelley, of Arlington, who finished 13th last year, will be able to keep up with the stiff pace that Brown, Pawson and Heinicke can set from start to finish.

Not all of the 194 union pounders can hope to plod over all of the cruel course, but it can be taken for granted that such veterans as Demar, Mel Porter of New York, Leo Giard of North Randolph, John DeGloria of Albany, and at least three of the Canadian entries will be among the earliest finishers.

Lodge in Narvik And Sees British

British were established at Oyjordi and Gratangen. They also were holding Elvegaardsmoen, five miles north of Narvik, and Harstad, their main point of debarkation 30 miles farther up the coast.

Norwegians Driven Before

As the Nazis retreated they drove before them small units of the Norwegian army, with whom they engaged in a series of skirmishes.

The Germans apparently were careful to stay well west of the Swedish frontier as they moved southward to avoid the danger of inadvertently crossing the border and being interned.

I succeeded in making my way into Norway with considerable difficulty.

After a 35-hour journey northward from Stockholm on a crowded, uncomfortable train, I reached the Swedish iron mining town of Kiruna only to be told that I could proceed no further.

Kiruna is about 70 miles from the Norwegian frontier by the railway, which continues on to Narvik, a matter of some 18 miles more.

Foreigners Ordered Away

I found that all foreigners had been ordered from Swedish border areas, especially foreign journalists with or without passes. Swedish journalists apparently were permitted to cross the frontier into Norway at will, but when I protested that this was not exactly cricket a Swedish captain said "neither was the invasion of Scandinavia" and ordered me to return south.

There was nothing to do except board a train for the return trip to Stockholm, but 50 miles south of Kiruna I slipped off at Gellivare, determined to get across the border somehow.

A taxi-driver, unable to resist the promise of a bonus, finally agreed to take a chance on driving me the 120-miles to the frontier. By hiding on the floor of the taxi now and then I managed without incident to reach the border a mile north of Vassjaure-Riksgransen, on the Narvik-Kiruna railway, and stepped across in mid-afternoon without benefit of visa.

Tramps to Outskirts

In a snowstorm, with snowflakes that seemed as big as marshmallows, I tramped 15 miles or more to the outskirts of Narvik, traveling by wooded paths instead of the main road.

As I attempted to enter Narvik I was arrested by British patrols, but was released after displaying my credentials.

My freedom was short-lived, however. As I started out in the hope of visiting surrounding towns, I was arrested again and turned over to Norwegian military authorities, who insisted that I must return to Sweden because my passport bore no visa.

During the trip back to the frontier, escorted by Norwegian soldiers, I saw several German patrols about five miles from the Swedish line, as well as scattered Norwegian troops.

We arrived unmolested, however, and I was turned over to Swedish authorities. With 200 Norwegian troops, who had crossed the frontier and been interned, I was taken back to Kiruna and held there under guard until I could be put aboard a train for the south.

The conductor was directed to see that I did not leave the train this time until it had reached Vannas, 280 miles south of Kiruna. Fourteen wounded Norwegians, who were being transported to a hospital at Boden, near Sweden's east coast, were with me on the train.

Germans Issue Denial

Berlin, April 18 (AP)—A categorical denial that British troops are in Narvik or that the British have been there at any time since the German occupation of Norway was issued today by DNB, the official German news agency.

DNB's statement said: "On April 16, the London radio broadcast an official announcement that British troops had blocked the entrance to Romabakfjord. Then, under the protection of artillery, British troops were reported to have landed in Narvik. German troops were supposed to have retired to the hills, where they found themselves in a pincers between British and Norwegian troops which were closing in on a mountainous region.

"It is established by informed sources that: The British forces merely bombarded Narvik without effect; no effort whatever was made to land at Narvik on April 16; Narvik was not only on April 16 in German hands, but the Germans are there today, April 18 and are in possession not only of the harbor, but of the city.

"Norwegian troops who were supposed to have caught the Germans in a pincers were, through the seizure of the Lofoten railway from Narvik to the Swedish border, forced over the border, leaving behind them dead and captives."

In a later statement DNB said additional information received from Narvik early this afternoon reported the situation there unchanged.

Not even British naval forces were sighted in the waters off Narvik, the agency said.

May Choose From Forty Vegetables

Gardeners who answer the call of the soil are reminded that they have more than 40 kinds of vegetables from which to choose in planning the garden.

Dr. A. J. Pratt of the department of vegetable crops at Cornell says it is wise to plan the garden. A plan drawn on paper is not necessary, but it helps.

"If you do draw a detailed garden plan, be sure to make it large enough to be useful. A large sheet of wrapping paper will serve. Those who want system without lots of detail may omit the diagram and merely list in one column the kinds of vegetables to be grown; in the next column, the varieties; in the next, the number of rows of each needed for the family; and finally, the expected date of planting."

Planting dates vary, even in the same year and within the same community, says Dr. Pratt. Gardeners with a light, well-drained soil may be planted two weeks earlier than those with a heavy soil and not well drained. A family garden of one-quarter acre or more should produce vegetables worth $100 or more to the family, he points out.

Cornell has a bulletin on the home garden, and single copies are available free to New York state residents. It has the key number E-344. The bulletin may be had from the New York state college of agriculture at Ithaca, New York.

Death Ends Race

Paoli, Pa., April 18 (AP)—Death early today ended the 100-mile race of the two state troopers speeding a two-year-old Newville, Pa., boy toward a Philadelphia hospital for an operation to remove a peanut from his lung. Only a few miles short of the destination, Marlin Sheeley, son of a Cumberland county farmer, died here at the home of Dr. Robert C. Hughes, who performed an emergency operation in a last-minute effort to save the baby's life. The child's mother, Mrs. Mary Sheeley, who, with a nurse, accompanied the troopers, watched the operation.

Lone Charter Member Attends As Y. M. C. A. Opens Fund Drive

C. A. are absolutely necessary to the progress and welfare of the city of Kingston," said Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman in opening the drive.

"The largest and finest opening of any Y. M. C. A. finance campaign within my memory," said Campaign Chairman Clarence Dumm to the more than 125 workers at the dinner meeting of the campaign organization, as he introduced the mayor who brought the greetings and good wishes of the city of Kingston for complete success in the drive for $25,633 to be conducted during the next 12 days, closing on Monday evening, April 29.

The mayor noted the competitive set-up for a boat race down the Hudson from Albany to Kingston, with each division taking the name of an historic boat—the Clermont, the Half Moon, the Norwich and the Mary Powell chosen by the Women's Division. He called attention to the fact that the voyage would be free from submarines and mines and bombers; that all should be grateful for living in a country of democratic and Christian ideals and it should inspire all to give all possible moral and financial support to the Y. M. C. A. whose program is based upon teaching the Christian way of life to youth.

He stated that there was never a time when society so much needed strong, courageous, religious leadership; that character must be the basis of social relationships if we are to survive.

Paul Zucca had charge of the singing and music.

Full instructions for the conduct of the campaign were given by Campaign Director Harry Martin of the National Y. M. C. A. Finance Bureau and prospects were distributed for solicitation, with the first report meeting announced for Monday, April 22, at 6:15 o'clock for dinner at the Y. M. C. A.

Catch Fish With a Snood

Hazel Dell, Wash. (AP)—Snoods—those bags that hold up milady's hair—were the forerunner of the fisherman's dipnet in this section. Here's how the genesis took place 80 years ago when whites first came into the Columbia river country: Watching Indians catching smelt by impaling them on sticks filled with nails, Mrs. Edwin Huntington remarked to fellow-pioneers: "A woman's hairnet would work much better." To prove her point she took off her coarse net, which, she recalled, was like the present-day snoods, and scooped out a batch of fish. Following her suggestion, squaws soon were making nets from twine and the Indians' catch multiplied.

Says Plates Stolen
Lime Rock, Conn., April 18 (AP).—Dr. Bernhard Wall, the noted etcher, informed the state police today that 258 copper plates, comprising a considerable part of his pictorial biography of Abraham Lincoln, had been stolen from his home here during the winter. Dr. Wall, who was in Florida from November until last Thursday, said that shortly after his return he found that the plates were missing. He placed his monetary loss at between $9,000 and $11,000, but said that it would take him from two to three years to etch new plates. The stolen work had not been published.

Will Issue Licenses
New application blanks for chauffeurs' licenses have been received at the Motor Vehicle Bureau office and issuance of renewal licenses will begin Monday, April 22. Present licenses expire May 31. Applications for renewal require two pictures of the applicant and the renewal stub of the present license. Licenses will be issued to run three years at a cost of $4, but renewals may be made for one year at a cost of $2.
If the total quantities of food produced in this country were distributed according to need, every individual would have a fairly satisfactory diet, say two federal food economists.
